Clay Favors Single Armed Forces Chief

General Would Have Major Commanders Wear Same Uniform

Washington — P — Gen. Lucius D. Clay proposed to investigating senators today that U. S. military forces be drastically reorganized with all major commanders in the same uniform and under a single chief.

The retired World War II army general said single control is necessary because "no future commander is going to fight a war with the weapons of one service."

Clay, a friend of President Eisenhower, is a former commander of U. S. forces in Europe. He is now head of Continental Can Co. and a director of other large corporations.

He testified before the senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, as that group sought to wind up the current phase of its missile-satellites inquiry.

Proposes More Authority

Clay urged greatly increased power and authority for both the secretary of defense and the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

He said the secretary should have authority to transfer the billions of dollars of defense funds from one purpose to another, in order to push research and development.

He said the JCS chairman, now a non-voting member of the group that includes top service commanders, should take over their authority.

He said the present JCS now

One Dead, Score Reported Hurt In Chicago Fire

Many Children are Dropped From Apartment Windows

Chicago — P — A fire and explosion spread havoc through a crowded south side apartment building early today and in the frenzy to escape many children were dropped from windows of the 4-story building.

One infant was dead and at least 20 persons were injured, including nine children.

Conflicting reports on the actual number of residents of the 27 apartments in the building in a Negro district left a possibility the toll of dead and injured might be higher.

Firemen began sifting ashes in the burned out structure today in a search for possible additional victims.

"The babies" were falling like rain drops," said Jack Millan, 31, Negro, who rushed to the scene where he said he caught five children dropped from windows. He fractured a thumb while catching one child.

150 in Apartments

Fire officials said there were 150 occupants in the building's 27 apartments.

Cause of the blast was not determined immediately but authorities said there apparently was no connection between the explosion and accidental sale of a gasoline-mixture as fuel oil.

Tenants in the apartment building reported they were awakened by a heavy thump and that almost at the same moment the building was aflame.

Some tenants jumped into fire nets and others were rescued by firemen who brought them down ladders. Two or three men clinging to a third floor ledge dropped to the ground when the ledge gave way.

There were numerous stories of heroism. One tenant, L. D. Dixon, 30, dropped to the ground from the third floor when he caught his wife Alberta and 7-year-old son Harvey Lee Lawrence, 30, threw his six children one at a time into arms of neighbors.

Other children, by dropping from a window, were rescued by a fireman.

Ike Would Erase Corruption And Racketeering, He Says in Special Message to Congress

Washington — P — President Eisenhower today urged congress to curb "corruption racketeering and abuse of trust and power in the labor-management field." He made the recommendation in a 12-point proposal for legislation.

In a special message, Eisenhower recommended specifically that unions be subject to loss of legal bargaining status if they fail to file true and proper data on their finances and other subjects.

Against a background of congressional inquiries disclosing abuses in the labor-management field, Eisenhower called for legislation "to benefit and protect the welfare of American workers and the general public."

Urges Harmony

He added it should "curb abuses" and provide greater harmony and stability in labor-management relations.

The entire 12-point legislative program recommended by Eisenhower had been unveiled previously by Secretary of Labor Mitchell. He outlined it in a speech at the AFL-CIO convention last December.

As given out in the Mitchell address, the program had drawn fire from both labor leaders who contended it went too far, and management spokesmen who said it did not go far enough.

Coupled with the normal political wariness of congress members on labor matters in an election year, that lack of enthusiasm lessened chances for major parts of the program to get through this year.

Abuses at which Eisenhower aimed have been sharply outlined in hearings before the senate rackets investigating committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.). That group is preparing its own proposed remedies.

"No labor-management relations legislative program today can ignore the disclosures of corruption, racketeering and abuse of trust and power in the labor management field," Eisenhower told congress.

Eisenhower said much is being done in some quarters to eliminate evils and abuses.

"Union officials — most of whom are decent, honest Americans — are also doing much paring its own proposed remedies.

Greenlee, S.C. — P — Four Ku Klux Klansmen convicted in the beating of a Negro man were sentenced to prison terms here today.

General Sessions Judge James M. Brailford, Jr., sentenced Andrew Marshall Rochester, 30-year-old Greenville Klan head, to six years at hard labor.

Wade Henry Howard, 24, who with Rochester was convicted of conspiracy to commit assault and battery and with committing assault and battery, received a 3-year sentence.

Verdicts Last Night

Two others, Jack Bentley, 24, and Robert E. Waldrop, 28, were sentenced to one year each for conspiracy.

An all-white jury returned the verdicts last night against the four who were charged in the beating last July 21 of Claude Cruell, 38-year-old Negro, who with his wife were caring for seven white children whose mother was hospitalized.

The state contended the beating was planned and carried out because of friendship of the Cruells with Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Turner, a destitute white family who rented a house on Cruell's property, about 13 miles from here and near Traveler's Rest.

Judge Brailford remarked, "I don't see I can accomplish any good by lecturing these men." He then passed sentence quickly.

He said he was handing Rochester the stiffest sentence because he was the leader of the Greenville Klan.

Hundreds of Men are Named 'Queens for Day'

Oklahoma City — P — Lt. Gov. Pink Williams said a new girl empire in his office made a mailing error and he commissioned several hundred Oklahoma men "queens for a day."

Williams explained that he issues two types of honorary commissions, one for men and the other for women. The female commissions are for "commodore and queen for a day," while others are for "admirals of the great navy of the state of Oklahoma."

House Votes to Raise Debt Limit

Approves Ceiling Of $280 Billion Until June 30, 1959

Washington — P — The house today voted 328-71 to raise the national debt ceiling from 275 to 280 billion dollars until June 30, 1959.

Before approving the $5 billion increase, the house voted down 275-114 a proposal to limit the ceiling hike to $3 billion.

House action sends the bill on to the senate where Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the senate finance committee has promised it will get rapid consideration.

In asking for the ceiling rise, Secretary of the Treasury Anderson said it was needed to give greater flexibility in handling the public debt and ease the way to putting more of the debt under long-term financing.

Voting for the increase in the house were 186 Democrats and 142 Republicans. Against were 29 Democrats and 52 Republicans.

Dulles in Morocco for Talks With Officials

Benguerir, Morocco — P — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today for brief talks with Moroccan officials. He is on his way to Ankara, Turkey, for a Baghdad pact meeting starting Monday.

After his talks with Moroccan officials, he will go on to Tehran, Iran.

U. S. Agents Smash Narcotics Ring

New York — P — Federal agents today smashed a narcotics ring in the New York and Philadelphia areas in raids that netted 17 persons and a record haul of heroin.

The agents seized 37 pounds of heroin, valued at about $2 million at retail prices.

George H. Gaffney, New York district supervisor of the federal narcotics bureau, said it was the largest quantity ever taken in a single roundup in the United States.

Gaffney said nine persons had been arrested in the New York area and eight in Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia.

Says He Gave Union Boss Land Deal Gains

Washington — P — Ed Doran, former business representative of the San Francisco Operative Engineers union, testified today that he passed thousands of dollars in concealed profits comment Edward Bennett Williams, attorney for the union, on union land deals to Victor Swanson, boss of the big local 2000.

Doran said Swanson turned some of the money back to him. He also testified he turned over some profits money to Porter E. Vandewark, now treasurer of the local.

An investigator for the senate rackets investigating committee said he had traced $800 of the money Swanson got to Patrick Clancy, the president of the local.

Both Clancy and Vandewark have denied under oath that they got any of the real estate profits.

Eisenhowers to Fete Rayburn at Dinner

Washington — P — The White House sets the glittering gold service again tonight for a state dinner in honor of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Texas.

"Mr. Sam" and about 20 other guests are invited for the second of a series of six state dinners President and Mrs. Eisenhower have scheduled for the 1958 social season.

Rayburn will escort his sister, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas to the formal affair. It is the first time Mrs. Thomas has and Mrs. Eisenhower conducted the search, knock-at-the-door and broadcasting were checked for the addresses said.

Intensive Hunt in Chicago for Explosive Sold as Stove Fuel

Chicago — P — A House-to-house search enveloped a west side area when fire officials warned 1,300 gallons of an explosive gasoline-fuel of which was mistakenly sold to check off a map each block.

By late last night, nervous residents had turned in 950 gallons at a central receiving station manned by firemen.

200 Join Search

No explosions were reported from a wholesale dealer's truck at Harry Miller, deputy chief which had supposedly been full of fuel oil.

A "great deal of fuel oil" was found, "Warnings were immediate," since some fuel had not been broadcast, some in Spanish and some in English. Many of the area residents are Mexican and Puerto Rican.

Most of the oil was sold in 5 and 10 gallon quantities and wife was standing outside the names of customers were apartment, "frantic for my little boy" whom she was holding. But generally there was no hysteria, authorities

Many Dead Or Injured In Outbreak

Caracas — P — Military leaders overthrew the dictatorship of President Marcos Perez Jimenez today. A bloody revolt of civilians led by a newspaper reporter brought about the overthrow.

Perez Jimenez, ruler of the nation for nearly 10 years, fled with his family and aides to the Dominican Republic. Another former dictator, Juan D. Peron of Argentina, to whom Perez Jimenez had given refuge, was reported fleeing to Colombia by car.

The revolt which began with an abortive air force uprising on New Year's day, culminated in a civilian-led general strike Tuesday. Hundreds were killed and wounded in rioting and pitched street fighting while Perez Jimenez maneuvered in vain to hang on.

There was no certainty that the flight of Perez Jimenez would end the trouble.

A military junta, headed by Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabel and including four colonels, was sworn in as the executive power at Miraflores palace.

But the civilian patriotic members are not prepared to fight for a profit-sharing plan rita Ojeda, a reporter for the sponsored by Union President newspaper El Nacional, de Walter P. Reuther, who will be in the fight for a shorter work week, military only conditionally.

The conditions included the holding of national elections as soon as possible, the formation of a national union government of persons responsible for crimes against the deposed regime, and restoration of freedoms, including freedom for political parties.

Directed Strike

The patriotic junta declared it had directed the general strike which started Tuesday. Its leaders said they had no contact with the young military officers who grasped control of the government last midnight by informing Perez Jimenez that the country's armed forces had turned against him and that he must abandon the presidency.

Three other young civilians were identified as leaders of the patriotic junta. They were Sylvestre Ortiz Buzaran, 32, Guillermo Garcia Ponte, 33, and Enrique Aristerguieta, 34.

Death Mourned

In Washington, members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation and senators, regardless of political affiliation, mourned the congressman's death.

Nurse Joan Hall of St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Infirmary hospital in San Francisco holds the 7-pound son born to a 10-year-old girl Tuesday. Dr. Chester L. Cooley, chief of the hospital medical staff, supervised a team of four doctors who performed the operation. He said he believed the girl was the youngest to give birth to a child in the medical history of the United States, although the youngest in history was a 5-year-old Peruvian girl. "She's just a child and doesn't know exactly what has happened," Dr. Cooley said in reference to the young mother, whose name was withheld. Intellectualism

Taken to Task

Pegler Says Certain Element Formed by Self-Acknowledgment

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York — By some vague process, no more definite than a personal twinge of emotion, an element of our people have segregated themselves above the rest of us as self-acknowledged "intellectuals." These include the editorial directors of the Luce magazines, the New York Times and Herald Tribune and the Washington Post, and practically everyone who lives within a 10-mile radius of Princeton, N.J., Cambridge, Mass., and Eleanor Roosevelt. The Luce group of intellectuals includes a consort, who once wrote a lewdish comedy judged by the moral standards of the time although it might be priggish as of now. This lady has gracefully acceded to the distinction vacated by the late Margot Asquith of whom the late Evelyn Beverly Macintosh, the parliamentary correspondent of the Yorkshire Post, noted that she "hasn't got a proper face but two profiles stuck together." That, however, is beside the point, which is that Mrs. Luce relates in "Who's Who" that she was "educated" in "St. Mary's, Garden City, L. I., in 1915-17," and in "The Castle," at Tarrytown, N.Y., in 1917-19.

Parked in Refuge
Mrs. Roosevelt confided in unguarded and perhaps unwise blunts in response to her rugged commercial instinct that she was parked in one refuge for more or less unwanted American children of broken homes in London and in another one near Paris. In the one her chief mentor was an old battle-axe who had taken part in revolutionary sports in France and in the other Little Nell got loused up with the faculty for telling lies, a weakness of which it may be hoped she cured herself in the intervening years although, as she, herself might put it, one never knows: does one? She seems to have received no formal degree from either.

The pretensions of this group have become so aggressive and derogatory of the school of lesser Americans who call themselves homespun and naively swear by the Ten Commandments, that it is not too early to demand that they define the term "intellectual" as they invoke it. After all, aren't we all intellectual, more or less, and who can say who is more and who is less and, if so what of it?

Colossus of Age

It is set forth that Prof. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who ran and slept with communists and gave money to their treasonous cause, is the colossus of the age if not the ages among American "intellectuals." The New York Times has sorrowed for him in his persecution by the unlettered who can't comprehend the confusion of a crazy, mixed-up double-dome so learned that he can't distinguish treachery from loyalty, but, like Einstein and Michelangelo with their parallel lines, ultimately meeting in space, seems to believe that a traitor and a patriot become alike at some unmeasured point in logical projection.

I wish I could explain what I mean by that, but when one gets involved in such thoughts the burden is shifted from the advocate to the party of the other part. If you can't understand you are guilty of anti-intellectualism, which is a foible concocted by the New York

Appleton Post-Crescent

Times and syndicated, free, among its henchmen in the war on McCarthyism.

It has seemed to the hand-hewn intellect that the cult here brought to challenge had invented an ism which thus far does not enjoy actual existence except as a gleam in its own editorial eye. "Intellectualism" would seem to have a future if worthy persons can find who will bother and waste wind on the subject, but when those dead-end double-domes come at us two-times-two mathematicians with this invention, they are guilty of the same clumsiness that gave us "Americanism," a meaningless arrangement of letters and sounds that has run up great mileage nevertheless, including tons of legislative documents laboring an issue which cannot exist because the word is all ears and elbows without definition or excuse.

"Intellectualism" has a respectable but modest place in the intellectual and political system of our world. It means a capacity for thought and knowledge whereas "intellectualism" obviously is at best a spurious cult of well-fed derisives who can't even suit their own language to their pose and fall back on "McCarthyism" as disproof of the sworn record which puts Oppenheimer and all others like him beyond the acceptance of men whose intellect tells them that he heartily had traffic with a force dedicated to annihilation of western culture and the existence of the U.S.A.

'Old Yeller' a Heartwarming Family Movie

Talented Dog, Three Youngsters Steal the Show

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A rascal of a floppy-eared yellow mongrel dog stole right into the hearts of the first night audience Wednesday when Walt Disney's "Old Yeller" was shown at the Rialto. The dog, named Old Yeller, is a "character" in a movie that tells the story of a boy and an adopted stray range dog and how they protect a pioneer homestead while the father is away from home. Kirk is that boy and Spike the fearless and lovable dog called Old Yeller.

Together they build the plot into the hearts of the first night audience Wednesday when Walt Disney's "Old Yeller" was shown at the Rialto. The dog, named Old Yeller, is a "character" in a movie that tells the story of a boy and an adopted stray range dog and how they protect a pioneer homestead while the father is away from home. Kirk is that boy and Spike the fearless and lovable dog called Old Yeller.

There are comedy moments for Old Yeller, too, when he campaigns for the affection of the older boy early in the movie and catches a fish with the younger child. This remarkable range dog shows his worth as he expertly throws a long horn cow so that its newborn calf can be brought home.

"Old Yeller" is for the whole family, from grandma down to the youngest fry. But a word of warning—bring an extra hanky for when the going gets tough and more than a little tearful.

Nurses Plan Mantoux Tests For Students

Public, Parochial Schools to Take Part In Annual Program

All fourth, eighth and twelfth graders in Appleton public and parochial schools who return signed parental permissions to their schools will receive Mantoux skin tests Feb. 3 through 5. This is the first time in the history of the Appleton program fourth graders will be tested, according to public school nurses.

The annual clinics, sponsored by school nurses and the Appleton chapter of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, are an effort to discover tuberculosis reactors and possible active cases.

No student will be given the test unless written parental permission is obtained on blanks sent out through schools Monday, nurses said. Deadline for returning assents is today and all refusals will be followed up by a school nurse in an attempt to get 100 per cent participation.

Determines Contact
The nurses emphasized the test, when properly used, is a method of determining whether a person has come in contact with the tubercle bacillus but does not reveal cases of active TB. All positive reactors will be given a chest x-ray to determine whether the disease is actively present.

The test is a simple one: A clear fluid called tuberculin is injected between layers of skin on the forearm. Doctors can tell by the appearance of the injection site 48 to 72 hours later if the child has been in contact with TB germs.

If the injection site becomes red and slightly elevated, the test is considered positive. Dr. Guy Carlson and Dr. John Russo will administer and read the tests assisted by school nurses and lay volunteers.

The schedule is as follows:
At 8 o'clock Monday morning, Feb. 3, clinics will be held at St. Joseph school for fourth and eighth graders from that school and St. Mary's, and fourth graders from St. Matthew, Jefferson and Washington schools.

St. Theresa School
At 9:30 Monday morning, Feb. 3, clinic moves to St. Theresa school for fourth and eighth graders from that school, fourth graders from Franklin Jackson and Lincoln schools, and twelfth graders from Fox Valley Lutheran High school.

At 8:10 Tuesday morning, Feb. 4, clinic at Morgan school for opportunity and orthopedic students from that building, eighth graders from Roosevelt Junior High school, fourth graders from Columbus and Edison schools, and fourth and eighth graders from St. Paul and Zion schools.

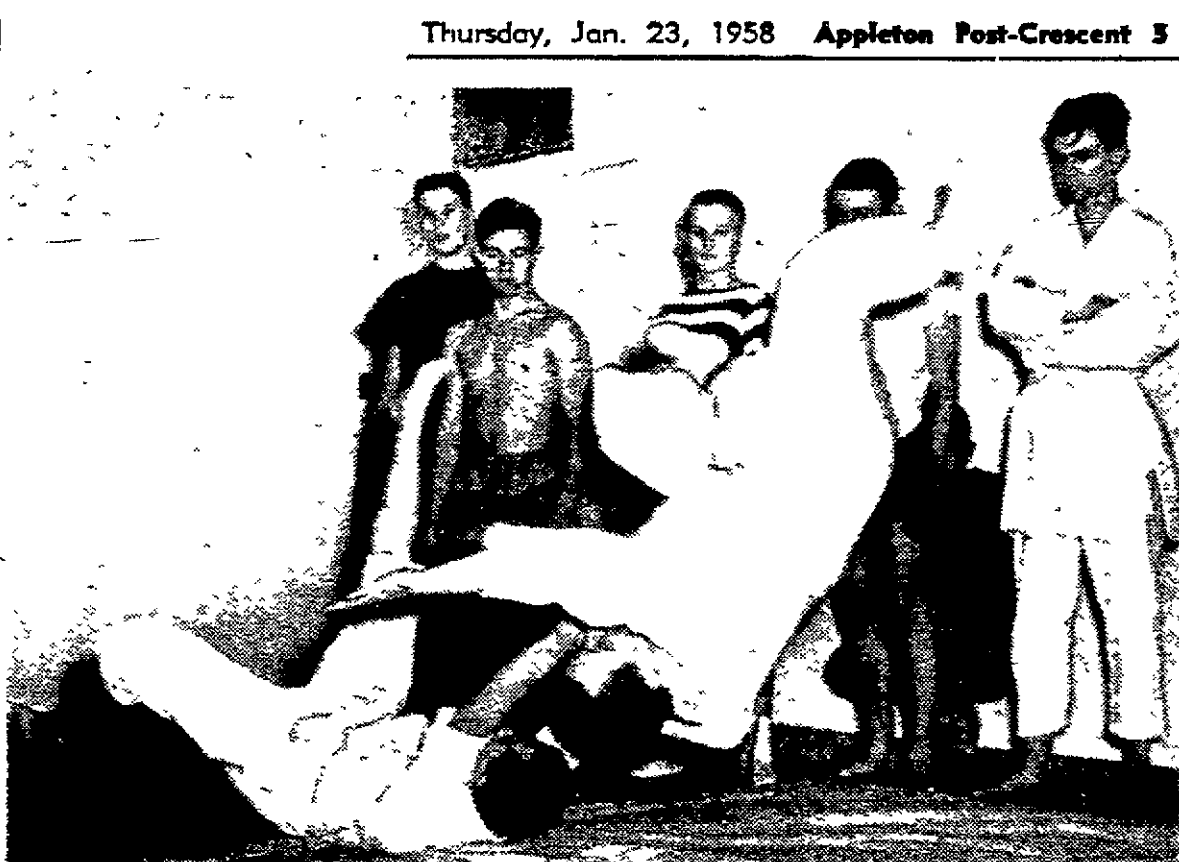

At 9:30 Tuesday morning, Feb. 4, the clinic moves to Sacred Heart school for fourth and eighth graders from that building and McKinley school, as fourth graders from Foster and Richmond schools.

At 8:10 Wednesday morning, Feb. 5, clinic at Appleton High school for twelfth graders from that building and eighth graders from Wilson Junior High school.

Reactions will be read 48 hours after tests are administered.

In preparation for Mantoux testing, nurses are showing a film on TB to all eighth and twelfth graders in public and parochial schools.

The program is financed by the WATA.

New England Author

Chase Novel Is About Maine Fishing Village, Its People

"The Edge of Darkness," by Mary Ellen Chase. Published by Norton company. $3.50

BY JEAN WILEY THICKENS
Mary Ellen Chase, one of New England's most beloved authors, has recently come forth with another of her inimitable tales of Maine and its people.

Miss Chase, for many years until her recent retirement, has combined authorship with being the head of the English department at Smith college. She now spends most of her time in Maine in a small, seaside village where she writes about its fisherfolk with charm and authenticity.

"The Edge of Darkness" is the account of what happens on the day that the villagers of this small coastal community gather to attend the funeral of Sarah Holt, age 90. The nonagenarian has spent most of her life in this same area and has influenced for the better the lives of all who knew her. At 90 she was still alert, a moving spirit in every village project, a pillar of the church, a friend to the friendless, the ill and poverty-stricken.

Sarah Holt represented an age of giants who let no adverse circumstances discourage or defeat them. For 50 years she had sailed the Seven Seas with her husband, Capt. Thomas Jefferson Alexander Hamilton Holt. The captain, the author tells us, has been born when those illustrious names still were on people's lips. He had been 30 years older than his wife, Sarah.

Each Chapter a Story
Each chapter of Miss Chase's novel is a separate story in itself, a biography in brief of some man, woman or child of the village whose life has been tied closely to Sarah Holt's in one way or another.

There is Samuel Parker, elderly bachelor who lived alone in his neat 3-room cottage, along and McKinley school, as fourth graders from Foster and Richmond schools.

At 8:10 Wednesday morning, Feb. 5, clinic at Appleton High school for twelfth graders from that building and eighth graders from Wilson Junior High school.

Reactions will be read 48 hours after tests are administered.

In preparation for Mantoux testing, nurses are showing a film on TB to all eighth and twelfth graders in public and parochial schools.

Seven AHS Boys Pass ROTC Test

Seven Appleton High school senior boys have passed the written examination for the navy reserve officers training program. They competed with 40 others who wrote the test here and with some 50,000 throughout the nation. Those selected nationwide are now eligible for the physical examination.

Successful writers are Bob Bauman, Dave Byfield, John Cotton, Howard Hamman, Lynn Meyer, Dwayne Norris, and Jerry Wegner. This number is twice as many from here as have succeeded in passing the exam in other years.

Civil Defense Police To See Training Film

Outagamie county's civil defense auxiliary police will see a motion picture on police signs and signals as part of their training at 7 o'clock tonight in the county board rooms at the courthouse.

Chief Instructor Donald Nimmers, of the state patrol, and the John Kuchenbecker, president of the Outagamie County Deputy Sheriffs' association, will teach the police class. Andrew J. Schiltz, civil defense coordinator.

Dollar Day Meeting

The Dollar Day committee of the Appleton Downtown Retail association will meet at 9:30 one who has read them all has Tuesday morning at the chamber of commerce office, Fred Eustice, chairman, said today.

237 Outagamie County Pupils Enrolled at State University

Madison — Two hundred and thirty-seven students from Outagamie county are enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison campus this year, the university has announced.

Total enrollment on the Madison campus this semester is 16,234 with another 4,735 students enrolled in the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and 1,455 enrolled in the University's eight extension centers throughout the state making a total enrollment of 22,424 full-time students at UW this year larger than last year and the third largest enrollment in UW history. The large enrollment this year also continues Wisconsin's state university as one of the top 10 universities of the nation.

Although over 72 per cent of its students come from Wisconsin homes this year, the UW also continues to be one of the nation's most cosmopolitan universities enrollment figures show. They reveal 11,788 or 72.6 per cent of the UW students on the Madison campus come from homes in every one of Wisconsin's 71 counties, with the remaining 4,486 students, or nearly 28 per cent, coming from 46 other states and the District of Columbia with 45 from the five U.S. territories of Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Panama Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico, and 620 from 70 foreign nations.

The figures also reveal a total of 4,014 war veterans are studying on the UW's campus this year. Of the total, 3,130 are Korean conflict veterans, another 484 are veterans of World War II, and 96 others are veterans of both World War II and the Korean conflict. The veterans make up about one-fourth of the university's total Madison campus enrollment.

Cities Must Grow or Die

Green Bay, in attempting to provide space for new industries by purchasing land on its outskirts, has run into trouble with its suburbs and there are reports that the Quinn law under which the city acted may be challenged in the courts. Green Bay's problem will be of interest to all other cities in Wisconsin, especially those like Appleton which also have purchased land under the Quinn act.

However, the problem Green Bay is running up against is national in scope; it is felt to some degree by every growing city.

It is obvious that the development of suburban areas in the vicinity of growing cities results in problems which must be solved if there is to be a successful community. Under most state laws cities are helpless to do much more than complain about the conditions. Annexation in Wisconsin is pretty much a matter for the people in the suburbs to decide. They are in a position to surround a city and thus shut it off from further growth.

Usually, however, the satellite municipalities soon find that they are also suffering from their attempts to go it alone, and finally annexation results. This result can be observed in the history of any large city. But the process is so slow that frequently great damage has been done to both the city and the suburban area before annexation results.

Two methods of meeting the problem have been followed. In Virginia and Texas the annexation laws are such that cities have little trouble annexing adjoining property. In most states, however, the suburban areas have the final word on annexation. To overcome the strong prejudice many suburbs have against annexation, metropolitan governments have been set up in some areas. The metropolitan government becomes a super-government controlling certain functions which are recognized as relating to all municipalities in the community.

The Metropolitan Area Problems News and Digest, which is published by the Government Affairs Foundation of New York, reviews some of the efforts at metropolitan government in its current issue. The fact that there is a foundation devoted to the study of this problem and a publication on the subject is enough to suggest the wide interest in the subject.

The widespread area in which cities are struggling with this problem is indicated by the fact that such widely separated cities as Toronto, Canada, and Miami, Fla., have adopted forms of metropolitan government. Toronto, which has been under metropolitan government for four years, reports that it has found a "realistic and practical answer to the problems which confront metropolitan areas where local autonomy is jealously guarded and local opinion is opposed to annexation and amalgamation."

"Metro," as the Toronto super-government is called, is charged with providing such services as water supply, sewage disposal, arterial highways, financing of hospital grants and children's aid societies, the provision of homes for the aged, metropolitan police, air pollution control, control of licenses and many other services including financing of the educational system.

"Metro" also is charged with the preparation of an official plan, not only for the metropolitan Toronto area which includes 13 municipalities, but also for the surrounding region which extends 10 miles in all directions from the Metro perimeter. "This regional planning obligation," says the chairman of the Toronto Metropolitan council, "is obviously for the purpose of preventing improper development in fringe areas which gave us so much difficulty in the past."

Suburban folks who are so much concerned about cities extending their borders should note how the Toronto suburbs react once they come under the super-government. No more fringe areas for them — not within 10 miles at least.

Art of Persuasion and Techniques Outlined in Public Relations Book

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

(Copyright, 1958)

John W. Hill operates what is regarded as the largest and most impressive public relations firm in the world, with offices in many countries and a big show in New York. So John Hill has written a book to explain what public relations is all about, particularly corporate public relations which is his specialty. The purpose of the book is obviously to clarify that corporate public relations is a profession, with the disciplines and limitations of a profession. Hill says in his book, "Corporate Public Relations."

Sokolsky

"It is possible in a free country, without greatly stretching the imagination, to read 'public opinion' for 'government.' In a nation with free elections, the near-equating of the two terms is justified. For, while public opinion can no more assume the making of government decisions than stockholders can decide all the matters weighed by management, our American system is such that delegation of power and of confidence is the equivalent of taking action."

Not Quite True
This is strong language and has never been quite true in the United States where the administration in power has never altogether been dependent upon the public opinion of the moment nor could it respond to it by any constitutional method. It would be more true to say that governments in some Central American and South American countries respond sensitively to public opinion, often expressed in the guise of rebellion, and it certainly is true of France where no government can last long because of the vagaries of public opinion, however devised.

Nor can it be substantiated that "delegation of power and of confidence is the equivalent of taking action." Were it so this would be an absolute monarchy. The most recent of President Eisenhower's press conferences, in which he slapped down a reporter for a question on John Foster Dulles, showed how those who possess actual and constitutional power need not worry about whether their views represent a delegation of public confidence.

However, what is brought out here is that public opinion is both wooed and raved in the United States and that it is the function of public relations to do both. John Hill, his Calvinistic upbringing asserting itself, in his book, resents the abuse of the term "public relations," by a press agent boasting a fluency into a personality, although he would regard giving a corporation or a trade association the policy advice by which they get a good name. He says:

"Thus corporate public relations may be described as the management function which gives the same organized and careful attention to the asset of good will as is given to any other major asset of the business."

That, after all, is what a gal like Eva Bartok wants — good will. And to many in the forensic occupations it is worth millions of dollars the same as for a corporation. In a word, it is a bit snooty to assume that there is something superior about the corporation, although there are those who believe it and become very stuffy when it is suggested that selling soap or gasoline or steel is nothing more important than selling a voice in the movies or a body in a night club. What it comes to is that if there is a demand there is a supply and the profit is greater if the demand is greater than the supply. All the good will in the world will not help the United States Steel corporation sell steel during a depression and that was shown in the last depression when the United States government went to the aid of the corporation which was like putting it on relief.

This book is interesting because what it really does is analyze the art of persuasion and explores the techniques, the object being not only to influence Americans to accept public relations as a noble art like the ministry of the law, but also to stabilize the profession so that those who earn their livelihoods a little off beat, will be stricken in their consciences by their evil conduct and will behave. The purpose is a worthy one and the book is therefore valuable.

One reason that we lack effective leadership is that too many leaders are manufactured in the offices of public relations counsel. If anybody says that that is good, how does he explain the present crop of leaders?

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Jan. 15, 1879.

Persons who are living in the Town of Grand Chute and vicinity, who are interested in the safety of their sheep, are asked to meet at the residence of Harmon Jones Monday evening at 6 p.m. to prevent the wholesale slaughter of sheep by dogs.

This is a matter of importance to sheep owners and all should attend that meeting Monday. Over 90 sheep have been destroyed by dogs within four years in that locality.

If Davis Wants to Run He Should Speak Up

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — An indignant resident of Green Bay bitterly complains that this space has ignored former Rep. Glenn R. Davis of Waukesha as a contender for the Republican nomination for senator. As do many others among Mr. Davis' considerable following of friends, he argues that the man who made a close run for the nomination twice previously is entitled to front rank among the contenders this year.

Indignant Subscriber ignores or is unacquainted with the purposes of this dispatch on state affairs, and, perhaps, the realities of current state politics.

It is not the business of this correspondent to assert who ought to run for office, but to explain who is likely to do so, and why, and to appraise the circumstances of candidate competition.

Moreover, there is apparent a considerable body of opinion in Wisconsin Republican politics that doesn't share the view of the Green Bay critic that Mr. Davis is the best of all possible candidates for that high place this year. That may be just or unjust; it is the business of this report to relate it in any event.

MR. DAVIS' POSITION

Considering everything, it is hard to deny that the man from Waukesha who made two strong campaigns and has a background of a decade of service in the United States house of representatives is a plausible candidate for the Republicans to choose this year when the candidates are not exactly falling over each other to get into the race.

But it also is a fact that such talk among representative Republican leaders who have considered the candidate recruitment problem has tended to pass over Davis, for a number of reasons.

One of them is the near-certainty that the candidacy of Davis, who has represented the conservative viewpoint in two difficult primary elections, will cause another ruckus of the kind that many Republicans want to avoid.

Another is the fact that Mr. Davis antagonized many influential Republicans last fall when he appeared unwilling to do anything to back up the man who defeated him in the special election primary; Walter J. Kohler, at a time when he badly needed help.

WILLING?

But more important is the fact that if Mr. Davis is a candidate, there is little on the record to show it.

Some of his friends who have tried to get his views have come away unconvinced that he wants to run again. Others have concluded that he is willing enough to have another nomination, but he wants the initiative to come from the party, a "draft."

Realists know that the idea of a "draft" is story-book politics. The draft doesn't happen in Wisconsin at least. This report has chronicled Wisconsin political events for two decades, and it has yet to record a genuine, unimposed, spontaneous "draft."

The idea of the Davis nomination for the third time recall a favorite story of Sen. Dirksen, about the little man in Chicago who had a passionate interest in pets, but relatively little means to gratify it. During one lunch hour he saw a highly trained parrot offered at a bargain sale and after considerable soul-searching took the plunge and bought it. He had it sent to his home, toward which he raced at the end of his day's work at the office. "Where's the bird?" he demanded of his wife. "In the oven," that worthy replied.

"Woman, that bird cost me 40 bucks. It speaks 12 languages!" he cried. "Why didn't he speak up?" she asked.

Potomac Fever

Washington — The Eisenhower team celebrates its fifth year in office. The years have passed quietly. In fact, for months at a time, you'd hardly know anybody was there.

Former Secretary of State Acheson chides Republican "inaction." If the Republicans refuse to make a move, how are the Democrats going to claim it's a retreat?

Ike rallies Republicans in a Chicago speech. 1st Republican: "Did that speech pep you up?" 2nd Republican: "You bet — like a slug of hot tea after a warm bath."

A tribe of North Carolina Indians routs the Ku Klux Klan. Carolina war party chant: "Nothing is de lusher than to chase a Ku Kluxer in the morning."

Sputnik must be some new kind of flying anti-biotic. No sooner did it begin to orbit than Asian flu practically disappeared.

Anybody can get arrested these days, but — thanks to the supreme court — it takes a real genius to stay in jail.

Ike asks business and labor to hold off price and wage boosts. This advice won't be ignored. It will be weighed very carefully before being shelved.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"This session of Congress is a challenge! . . . Never before have we had the opportunity of talking about so many things about which we know so little. . ."

An Unfair Traffic Law

When Paul H. St. Arnaud appeared in a Milwaukee court on a drunken driving charge he was quite unconcerned until the police began to tell the judge what a fine fellow he was.

The police testimony was that St. Arnaud had smelled only moderately of liquor, was polite and orderly after his car had struck a semitrailer truck. The police opinion was that while he was intoxicated he was not flagrantly so.

The judge suggested that the case might be reduced to reckless driving. St. Arnaud and his attorney, John L. Doyno, protested against any such kindness on the part of the court.

"No, No," cried Doyno, and then he explained. St. Arnaud had already lost six points under the drivers license point system. A reckless driving conviction would cost six more, and his license would be suspended for a year. In that case he could not apply for a new license until the end of the year.

However, if convicted of drunken driving, his license would be automatically revoked for one year. But where there is automatic revocation, a driver may apply for an occupational license in 90 days. Doyno stated. He added that St. Arnaud is a salesman and needs an occupational license.

Here is a strange bit of legal injustice. No one will be able to explain why the law should put a drunken driver back on the highways in 90 days while the same man, short of points for a lesser offense, would be kept off of the roads for a year. In this case the attorney served his client well by taking full advantage of the law as it is written. But if the law is to be a matter of fairness to all, the fellow who loses his rights by speeding is as much entitled to an occupational license as the drunken driver, be he ever so amiable.

What Others are Saying

School Camps Big Success

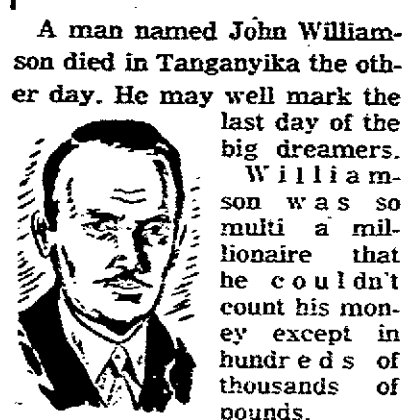

From Wisconsin Journal of Education

Wausau is enthusiastic about school camping. It all started as a school project the spring of 1956 when a sixth grade class of the Wausau public schools set out for camp. The pilot project proved so successful that the program was expanded last spring to include three groups from the elementary schools attending camp at different times, each for a three-day period.

The classroom teacher, in each case, had the role of camp director, assisted by a staff of counselors and resource personnel. The camp counselors, who supervised the campers in their cabins during the activities were obtained from the Wausau Senior High school, Taylor County Teachers college, and the Wisconsin state college at Stevens Point. The resource personnel was from the local community and selected faculty members of the local school system. They lectured, demonstrated, conducted nature hikes, answered questions, lead discussions, and provided for the active participation of the campers.

Diamond-Seeker Dies After He Finds African End of Rainbow

A man named John Williamson died in Tanganyika the other day. He may well mark the last day of the big dreamers. Williamson was so multi a millionaire that he couldn't count his money except in hundreds of thousands of pounds. I knew him briefly when he was so broke he could count his wealth in pennies. Borrowed, that is. He was a dreamer. He was also a geologist, and he had a fever. Some people get fevers for gold, some for market manipulations, some for uranium. Williamson was not bitten by the gold bug. He was diamond happy. He figured that if South Africa had diamonds, too, he went to Rhodesia in 1934 and poked holes in the ground fruitlessly for six years. He was as busted as a dream of peace. In Nairobi, he was down to shillings and pence. But he still held this dream. He financed a final expedition, this time to Tanganyika, on coins collected from friends — a shilling here, 10 bob there, and an occasional pound from the optimistic. He was going to give it the last big try. He went to Tanganyika, to a place called Mwandui, with a safari crew so sketchy that he was possibly washing his own clothes. If the clothes got washed, he had this feeling for diamonds, and he went to where the feeling led him. This now becomes sheer fiction. One day, out of money, out of luck, out of time, and out of any future, he stumbled on something that hurt his foot through the rubber soles of his bush shoes. Out of curiosity, he looked at the pebble that had affronted his foot and saw a raw diamond as big as a golf ball. He looked over his shoulder and saw that none of his boys had seen his mild accident. For a diamond this big, any or all of the crew would casually have killed him. He ground the diamond into the ground, rapidly held this dream. He financed a from landmarks, and went back to Nairobi, an ostensible failure. He raised some more dough, somehow, and this time he knew where he was headed. He did a homing-pigeon course for his big diamond, and equipped now with labor and protection, proceeded to uncover the most fabulous diamond pipe since the early days in South Africa. At one time he had 17 million dollars worth of diamonds he couldn't sell, because the De Beers gentlemen from South Africa keep a rigid ceiling on the diamond business, and the dealers who wanted to buy Williamson's diamonds were afraid that the tremendous monopoly would light on their necks again. With 17 million dollars worth of diamonds, Williamson was still more or less broke. Cozy $10 Million But, as usual, businessmen get together, and Sir Ernest De Beers and Bwana Williamson had a cozy little chat. What the actual financial arrangement was, I couldn't say, but at one time Williamson had refused more than five million bucks for his diamond mine. He joined De Beers, for a sum I should imagine was little less than 10 million pretty green things, with a pretty cut on the future. It was reckoned at the time that the mine Williamson stubbed his toe on produced at least 5 per cent of the international diamond supply. The entire mine area, privately owned until he dealt with De Beers, comprised only six acres in Tanganyika, and you had to sweep the hyenas out of the mine. He's dead now, and so is Sir Ernest De Beers, and what goes with the diamond business I don't know. But I can say one thing: it is very rare when a man of vision can finance a trip with money borrowed in bits from his friends, stub his toe on a diamond, and bring the enormous diamond monopolies' market to the same foot. I doubt very much if Williamson had much out of the accomplishment after it had become fact. Like most of our old soundboughts, he was a seeker, and after he found El Dorado, it lost its glitter. Lower Rate of Discount Expected to Boost U. S. Stock Market, Business

Financial Circles Approve of Move Made by Federal Reserve Board

Washington —P— Financial circles forecast a boost for the business and the stock market money situation, which should as a result of the federal reserve board's approval of a lower discount rate today at the Philadelphia Reserve bank.

News of the money-easing move, a reduction in the discount rate from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent, was received in San Francisco Tuesday afternoon.

The exchange still had 45 minutes of trading time remaining when the announcement was issued.

The Philadelphia district reduction is effective today. The other federal reserve banks are expected to request similar reductions shortly.

Cuts Interest Rate

New York's biggest bank, the Chase Manhattan, immediately said it was cutting its prime interest rate—that charged on borrowers with top credit ratings—from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent to day. Some observers predicted other big institutions would follow quickly.

The Wall Street reaction generally was optimistic. Some sources there, however, expressed disappointment because the rate was not dropped to 2 1/2 per cent.

The discount rate is the interest federal reserve banks charge their member banks for borrowed money.

Here are some Wall Street comments:

Bache and company: "The move is along the lines of the program indicated to aid business, through easing of the money situation, which should as a result of the stock market's approval of a cut.

A. W. Zelomick, an economist, said: "If it is reflected in a cut in interest rates by banks, then it is a really encouraging development for business."

Gerald Loeb of the E. F. Hutton and company: "I believe the move will be a stimulus to the stock market and the rapidity and persistence of the administration and the federal reserve policy in an effort to check the recession will succeed in restoring confidence and stimulating business. These are important factors that should tend to extend the recovery in the stock market."

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson described the decision as a "proper" one, and "continued evidence of the flexible use of the federal reserve mechanisms in the national interest."

The reduced rate on loans to the banks will permit them to day. Some observers predicted lower their own interest charges to corporations and individuals, thus encouraging the financing of new product lines, plant expansions and other business ventures.

Convict Aids Crete Widow And Children

Boston —P— Robert Perry is a convict in Massachusetts, but a philanthropist in the Mediterranean island of Crete.

The story came to light in The Mentor, the prison's "inside" newspaper.

A prisoner's pay averages about $1.25 a week—but that's only a dollar less than Elli Mantadakis, a widow on the island of Crete, makes to support her three children.

port her three children.

The Mantadakis — they lost their father when he was killed in Korea — make ends meet thanks to a benefactor. They call him "Uncle Bob."

Bob Perry, who makes extra money doing avocational work at the prison on weekends, sends his adopted family in Crete about $3 a week.

That isn't a fortune, but in poverty-stricken Crete the added cash helps Mrs. Mantadakis keep her children clothed and fed.

In addition, "Uncle Bob" sends clothing and presents when he can afford it. His gifts total about $150 a year.

Perry receives about a let-

Grand Jury Demands Policemen in Every School in Brooklyn

New York —P— The rape of a 13-year-old girl in the basement of a Brooklyn Junior High school brought a new grand jury demand yesterday for stationing policemen in every school.

Supt. William Jansen replied that there was a patrolman in the school when the attack occurred Tuesday.

"As deplorable as this situation is, it does not appear that the presence of a policeman in a school can prevent a thing like that," said Jansen.

The Kings county grand jury recommended last November that a policeman be placed in each of the city's 918 public schools. School and police officials rejected the idea.

Jury Statement

Yesterday, the grand jury reiterated its suggestion in a statement that said in part:

"How long must we wait? Until some one is killed? We cannot and will not countenance indifference to their (our children's) safety."

Police again arrested a 15-year-old Negro boy questioned earlier, then released, in connection with the rape.

The girl, who is white, and the boy are both students at John Marshall Junior High school. Because of their ages, names were not released.

Boys Break Glass

Police, investigating a broken glass louver at the Lappen Bicycle and Hobby Shop, 222 E. Wisconsin avenue, Wednesday found two 12- and 15-year-old boys who admitted breaking the $6 pane. They were reprimanded and their parents agreed to pay for the glass, police said.

Advocates Caution in House Action on Funds

Washington —P— House members were cautioned today against trying to "make headlines" as they weighed a $400 million submarine - building amendment to a $1,410,000,000 emergency defense bill.

This advice against voting more money than the house appropriations committee recommended came from Rep. Mahon (D-Texas) chairman of a sub-committee that drafted the bill.

The committee already has recommended $40 million more than the $110 million Eisenhower asked in authority to transfer available funds to missiles and other advanced programs. The $1,260,000,000 in new funds contained in the measure is the total the president asked.

The amendment, drafted by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), would give the navy an extra $400 million to start work immediately on 10 new nuclear-powered attack submarines.

Norse Minister for Talks With Russians

Oslo, Norway —P— Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange said today "the western democracies must demonstrate by deed that we have an honest and sincere desire to negotiate" a cold war settlement.

"We must assume until further notice that the Soviet Union now sincerely wants a genuine relaxation of tensions," Lange said in a foreign policy speech to parliament.

A demonstration of western sincerity is needed "to clarify this vital question," Lange said. "And we must not be impatient. Clarification can only come gradually."

Lange joined the other NATO allies in turning aside Soviet proposals for an east-west summit conference within three months. He called for "confidential contact in advance to ensure that such a conference shall yield results."

Suspension Lifted For Little Rock High School Girl

Little Rock, Ark. —P— Darlene Holloway, 17 - year - old white girl suspended Jan. 10 from integrated Central High school after a pushing incident involving a Negro girl student, has been reinstated by the city school board effective Monday.

Darlene's mother, Mrs. Fred Gist, who had threatened to take the case into court if necessary, said last night after a board hearing on the case that her daughter would return to classes next week.

The reinstatement was announced by the board after a closed hearing attended by school board members, Mrs. Gist and her daughter, Central High officials and Arnis Guthridge, attorney for Mrs. Gist. The Negro girl, earlier identified as Elizabeth Eckford, was not present.

Mrs. Gist, a member of the Segregationist League of Central High Mothers, had quoted her daughter as saying she pushed the Eckford girl and the Negro threatened to strike her.

Military Junta Takes Control in Venezuela

The junta includes every shade of political opinion from communists to extreme rightists.

The pandemonium that broke out in Caracas at the dictator's downfall resulted in even more bloodshed.

A determined mob stormed headquarters of the national security police, most hated division of the dictatorship, to liberate prisoners. Security agents inside the building fired on the crowd killing three. The mob burned several police cars and several agents were badly beaten when they came out of the building.

After a brisk gunfight outside, the mob forced its way into the building and set secret police files afire. Some security agents were shot down, others beaten.

Other mobs ransacked the offices of the electoral council which conducted the Dec. 15 plebiscite by which Perez Jimenez had been declared elected for a 5-year term, and began forming at the Dominican embassy.

Civilians armed with rifles and machine guns fought a pitched battle with police in a housing project a few blocks from Miraflores palace Wednesday afternoon.

Other serious gun fights took place in other parts of the city. The strong fight put up by these groups drew the support of those who told of tortures at the hands of the political police.

The junta at once began restoring some of the liberties the dictatorship had suppressed. In addition to freedom for all political prisoners it ordered all officers who took part in the short-lived New Year's revolt of the air force, Col. Roberto Casanova of the army, Col. Carmona of the security police, and Col. Pedro Jose Quevedo of the military institutions.

Political exiles abroad made plans to return to their homeland. Censorship was lifted. The government radio announced that all branches of the armed forces and the military schools had united with the civilian fighters to overthrow Perez Jimenez.

As word spread of the president's overthrow, thousands poured into the Caracas streets for an uproarious celebration. Ignoring radio announcements that a curfew was still in force, they blanketed the city with honking horns in celebration. Flag-waving crowds on the sidewalks cheered and shouted. Police and soldiers waved the joyous mobs on.

Jet fighters from Maracay, the base where the New Year's day revolt started, buzzed the capital in a victory salute. All stores were shut down as the celebration rolled on. Celebrants outside the presidential palace almost mobbed indoors and kept out of Venezuelan affairs.

Father Alfredo Osgilia, a Roman Catholic priest, who was jailed Jan. 2 and later released, said four persons were killed and 100 injured in the leg when police stormed Santa Teresa church Tuesday. He said rioters had taken refuge in the church and police stormed inside, firing machine guns and throwing grenades and tear gas.

In the crowds, freed political prisoners greeted friends.

The government radio also called on all Venezuelans not to molest foreigners, and asked foreigners in the country to stay in their homes.

The state department in Washington said it had no reports of any injuries to the 40,000 Americans in Venezuela.

American investments in the oil and other industries there total more than $3 billion. Anti-Italian sentiment was noted during the rioting.

There were about 100,000 Italian immigrants in Venezuela. The ministry said his was killed but several were injured.

"However, the importance to American workers and to the public of preventing the impairment of the individual rights of employees and the fact that voluntary action is inadequate in this respect have become increasingly evident.

"In order to protect the basic rights of the individual worker and to maintain the integrity of the trade unionism itself, action on the part of the government is needed."

Eisenhower said the American public should be reassured that funds set aside for the benefit of workers in health, welfare and pension funds are records to all union members.

That money contributed by workers to union treasuries is used solely for their welfare.

2 File Papers for High Court Election

Madison — William Dietrich of Hartford and Justice Emmert L. Wingert of the Wisconsin Supreme court filed nomination papers Wednesday for the April 1 supreme court election.

If more candidates file papers with the secretary of state, a primary election would be held March 4 to reduce the field to two candidates.

The election is for a 10-year term beginning next January. Wingert was appointed to the court in 1956 to fill a vacancy created by the death of Justice Edward J. Gehl.

Dieterich is making his third try for a high court bench. He was defeated in 1954 by Justice Roland J. Steinle and in 1956 by Justice Thomas E. Fairchild.

Madison Talking With Suburbs on City Costs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Negotiations between Madison and its suburbs about possible suburban contributions to the cost of Madison services are attracting wide interest in municipal circles.

Like most of the larger Wisconsin communities, Madison has been gradually encircled by a ring of villages and urbanized towns. Population has spilled over the legal boundary lines of the municipality.

As in most larger cities, Madison's relations with its satellite neighbors have sometimes been cool because of the resentment of city officials and their constituents about the fact that suburbanites enjoy many of the advantages of the city but have no tax liability.

Similar Situations Again, as in most similar situations, the suburban residents have been hostile toward the idea of annexations to the central city as a means of joining their tax resources.

Initiative for the talks about possible financial collaboration came from one of the chief suburban communities, the village of Shorewood Hills.

Mayor Ivan Nestingen and city officials now are planning a series of informal talks resembling bargaining sessions with the suburban officers. The first talks showed that the bargaining may be protracted. The city offered a long list of city services and costs which the suburbs might justifiably contribute for benefits provided to their residents. The suburban officials presented a more slender list.

Amicable Talks The talks were amicable however, and there is considerable optimism about ultimate agreement on sharing of some costs — probably through contractual arrangements.

Relations between Madison and its smaller suburban neighbors have been especially delicate on school financing.

The original proposal by Shorewood Hills suggested discussion about cooperative financing of such metropolitan concerns as lake patrol and locks, library facilities, community planning, welfare and relief, as well as schools.

Suburb Spokesmen Other suburb spokesmen thus far have been noncommittal. Madison is ringed by three sizeable villages and several wholly urbanized towns. City planners have for years lamented the fact that much of the city's economic and civic leadership is being drained away, as the trend for suburban expansion continues. The principal Madison suburb is Maple Bluff, which is the residence of a sizeable number of the city's businessmen.

Meanwhile, city planners here are sponsoring a metropolitan area survey of popular attitudes on proposals for a total reorganization of local government services and the establishment of some form of metropolitan area government. Sponsors of that movement recognize the considerable legal hurdles in the way of such an innovation, but they are encouraged by a surprisingly favorable response from the rank and file of the area's inhabitants. A preliminary report showed that nearly half of the suburb residents, where opposition to such a movement might be expected to be most keen, favor a metropolitan region governmental structure as a solution to the problems posed by numerous autonomous governments in an essentially single community.

Plastic Surgery Used As Aid to Prisoners

Houston, Texas —P New faces and other physical repairs through plastic surgery are giving Texas prisoners a new outlook when they are released.

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the state prison system, says the program is an integral part of rehabilitation. Medical colleges assist in the program. It has benefited 450 prisoners. Scores of others are awaiting surgery.

"It is a proven factor of criminology that facial deformities and other disfigurements that contribute to personality complexes and handicap a man in finding work, are closely related in many cases to the crime a man commits," Ellis said.

Plan Session On Attracting Industries

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Possibilities for industrial development in the smaller towns and villages of Outagamie and Waupaca county will be explored at a public meeting in Bear Creek Feb. 4. Sen. Gerald D. Lorge of Bear Creek said here that he has made arrangements with the state division of industrial development to send staff members to the session. Among the expected speakers is Homer Vick, assistant director of the state agency.

The legislator said he consulted the state department after having had a number of inquiries from citizens and officials of the smaller communities in his area about ways and means to encourage local industrial expansion.

Waupaca Adds Members to School Board

4 Commissioners Must Stand for Election in April

Waupaca — Four members will be elected to the board of education at the April 1 election. The city council Tuesday night increased the size of the board to seven.

The board of education requested the increase to facilitate smoother functioning, according to Ald. Allen Scott who introduced the enabling resolution.

Since the action was in resolution form, no referendum is necessary. Had it been an ordinance, Wisconsin statutes would require a vote on the enlargement.

Appointed Until July
The statutes say additional positions created by the council shall be considered as vacancies at the time they are created. Those appointed to fill the vacancy will serve until the first Monday in July following the April election.

If they are to continue after July, they must be elected by the public.

The length of the appointees' term or whoever is elected in April is set by the city clerk.

The seats of Frank Betry, and Mrs. Ed. Hart expire this year. Nomination papers have been taken by Betry, Mrs. Ward Fonstad and Atty. Robert Stange.

Other present school board members are Dr. John Steiner, Fred Mannel, Don Falgatter.

Three Drivers Fined In Municipal Court

Two drivers were fined for speeding and one for ignoring a traffic signal when their cases were called this morning in municipal court. All three were charged three points against their driving records.

Anthony J. Traxler, 18, 3552 E. Wisconsin road, was fined $25 for driving 55 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone.

Robert Monteith, 59, Waupaca, was fined $15 for driving 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Kenneth K. Hinz, 34, 714 W. Commercial street, was fined $10 for ignoring a stop sign.

Safety Council Starts Skid Tests

Snow Storm Slows Arrival of Men At Pine Lake Site

Clintonville — The National Safety council's annual skid tests started at nearby Pine lake today.

The snow storm that hit the midwest Tuesday had its effect here. The arrival of many members of the committee on winter driving hazards was delayed slightly.

One test driver said it took him 12 hours to drive from near Chicago to Oshkosh.

He came from the commercial vehicle rest of the way the next industry—the relative merits of the vehicle and axle concepts.

A snowfall here would have wiped out the work of local snow removers, who worked all this week to prepare the ice for the tests, and delayed start of the tests.

Men in charge of preparing the lake for the tests reported the ice was 14 or 15 inches thick—thick enough, certainly, to support the mammoth semi tractor-trailers that will be skidded during the proposed three weeks of tests.

Trucks Delayed
The storm delayed delivery of some of the trucks. Two trucks that were expected to arrive here Tuesday arrived late Wednesday instead.

The trucks will be used to find the answer to a specific problem of protecting the braking systems of multi-unit commercial vehicles on glare ice.

The council committee also has tests on tap of the performance of passenger cars in deep snow and on hard-packed road snow.

Chairman of the committee on winter driving hazards, which has been in existence since 1939, is Prof. A. H. Easton, director of the motor vehicle research laboratory at the University of Wisconsin.

The remaining 33 members of the committee represent the automotive and commercial vehicle industries and such safety organizations as the National Safety council.

Technicality Snags Articles for Industry Growth Corporation

Articles incorporating an Appleton Industrial Development corporation have been returned from the secretary of state unapproved because of a technicality.

Franklin Nehs, one of the attorneys who helped draft the articles, said the secretary's objection involves a ruling that non-profit corporations may not issue stock. Nehs said he, Atty. David Bliss and Circuit Judge Andrew Parnell will study the matter, probably Friday.

2 Democrats Prepare Attack On Ike's Budget

Sen. O'Mahoney to Challenge Claim Of Balanced Spending

Washington—Two senate Democrats prepared today an attack on President Eisenhower's spending budget and his administration's monetary policies.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D - Wyo) said he intends to challenge in a senate-house economic committee hearing next week Eisenhower's contention that the $73,934,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1 will be balanced.

Furthermore, O'Mahoney said he wants the president's economic advisers to explain how they expect to pay the interest on a proposed $5 billion increase in the national debt "when they plan to cut back on wealth-producing projects in the budget."

He referred to reclamation and other domestic development projects.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he wants to know what the administration proposed to do about creating an economic climate in which business will move ahead with confidence.

"I hope the action of the federal reserve system in lowering the rediscount rates will work," Douglas said.

Drop Interest
The reserve board approved effective yesterday, a drop from 3 to 2½ per cent in the discount rate of the Philadelphia reserve bank, making money easier to borrow. Other banks are expected to follow suit.

"We need not only available credit, however, but a desire on the part of business if we are going to have an upturn," Douglas added.

Douglas said he feels monetary and credit controls, on which the Eisenhower administration depends largely for guidance of the economy, "will not work so well in a period of recession as they will in a period of inflation."

Budget balancing has been one of the cardinal objectives of the Eisenhower administration in the past. Some democrats apparently believe that if they can demonstrate the administration is headed toward deficit spending they will weaken the GOP position in this year's election battle for control of congress.

There were signs other Democratic candidates would try to blame the business downturn largely on what they have called the GOP's "hard money" policy.

Warns of Attempts To Take Money From Road Fund

Milwaukee—P—G. H. Bakke, secretary of the state highway commission, said Wednesday that Wisconsin roadbuilding funds must be guarded against encroachment by other state departments.

"We are dealing with the economic life of our communities and the state," he said. "We've got to make sure that other state departments don't bolster their own budgets at our expense."

Speaking before the 45th annual highway conference, Bakke urged delegates to "unite, not bicker" in efforts to maintain the highway program.

Bakke described the recently intensified federal highway program, the increased state and federal user tax accompanying it, and then said Wisconsin's roadway program was at a "critical stage" because of the pressures by all other departments for added funds.

The secretary said that while the interstate highway program was of prime importance in Wisconsin, it should not be pushed at the expense of secondary and rural road projects.

Indians Entitled to Pay For Slice of State Land

Claims Office Approves Tribes' Stand; Site of Kaukauna Figures in Litigation

Washington—A Certain Wisconsin Indians, including the Oneida, Stockbridge and Munsee tribes, are entitled to an award based on claims involving nearly four million acres of land in eastern Wisconsin including the land on which Kaukauna stands, the Indian Claims commission said Wednesday.

Ike's 'Half Truths' Must Go, Declares Arkansas Senator

Washington—P—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today President Monroe, nine years earlier, had recognized as ceded to the New York Indians.

States 2,500,000 more acres; part of the very area which President Monroe, nine years earlier, had recognized as ceded to the New York Indians. There was a final provision in that the Stockbridges and Munsee tribes were to get 46,080 acres on the east side of Lake Winnebago and the Brotherton Indians, a near-by 23,040 acre tract.

The United States paid the bago and the Brotherton Indians $20,000 for 500,000 acres on the west side of the tract. Fox river for the Oneidas. For The New York Indians ob- 62 cents an acre, the Menominee ceded to the United to no avail.

Education Committee Lauds Private Schools, Colleges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The private schools and colleges have been given a testimonial by the coordinating committee for higher education, the powerful state planning group.

"Wisconsin needs strong and vigorous institutions of this type," the state committee's declaration says, with a reference to the privately endowed higher educational institutions. There have occasionally been signs of concern among private school administrators in Wisconsin about the expansionist trends of the tax-supported institutions. The statement of principles published here may be a reflection of that history. but is also a pointedly cordial declaration.

Higher Education

"Wisconsin's private institutions of higher education have given distinguished service," the committee asserted. "These colleges and universities will continue to make valuable contributions to the education of young people of Wisconsin and elsewhere."

The statement continues: "Because of differences in emphasis and program, the presence of these schools extends and enriches the educational opportunities available to Wisconsin youth. The adequate support by the citizens of the state and nation of the private colleges and universities is vital to the perpetuation of a strong, diversified program of higher education."

Hospital Fund Short of Goal

$71,089 Collected This Week, Workers Told at Luncheon

Returns announced today in the $700,000 Appleton Memorial hospital completion fund campaign show the tally still is $98,203 short of its goal. This noon's reports, told during a weekly luncheon at the Conway hotel, indicate $71,089 has been collected during the week.

A breakdown shows the hospital family division reporting $25,155 for a total of $96,995, the commercial national division reporting $235 for a total of $13,865, the commercial local division reporting $4,840 for a total of $8,975, the special gifts division reporting $18,924 for a total of $27,894, industrial division reporting $5,000 for a total of $286,320, advance gifts division reporting $14,955 for a total of $161,708, and clubs and organizations division reporting $1,890, for a total of $6,040.

Campaign officials voted today to schedule one more report meeting Thursday, Jan. 30, in order to 'lean up cards still outstanding. Thursday's report luncheon will take the place of a victory dinner, originally scheduled for Monday.

Campaign leaders hope the extra solicitation will produce the pledges needed to reach the $700,000 goal.

M. E. Davidson Waives Hearing

District Attorney Adds Two Charges; Total Reaches 33

Merle E. Davidson, former Appleton broker charged with stealing $38,860 this morning waived preliminary hearing on 33 separate counts of theft and misuse of clients' funds.

About 40 persons who said they had dealings with Davidson, watched proceedings before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

Judge Schmiede set a reading of the criminal information for 9:30 Wednesday morning, Feb. 5. Davidson, through Atty. James R. Joyce, has denied all charges.

Two additional charges of theft were added this morning when District Atty. George A. Greisch charged Davidson with stealing a bank money order for $2,500 and a check of $100 from Fred Nack, Jr., 122 W. Sixth street, Kaukauna.

Davidson already is charged with stealing a $200 check from Nack. The offenses are alleged to have taken place last July.

Davidson's trial probably will be set after the reading of information Feb. 5 since a reading is a technical presentation of charges to the court by the district attorney, not a trial.

Arrested Dec. 9

Davidson is held in Outagamie county jail in lieu of $25,000 bond set Jan. 10 by Judge Schmiede.

He was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 9 and taken to Milwaukee to face charges of forging applications for FIA insured loans.

Federal authorities deferred prosecution until Outagamie county authorities prosecuted.

Actor to Pay His Wife $2,050 Monthly Support

Los Angeles—Actor Cameron Mitchell will pay his estranged wife $2,050 monthly temporary support pending agreement on a property settlement.

Under an agreement announced Tuesday she will receive $1,300 a month for herself and $750 monthly for their four children.

Mrs. Johanna Mitchell sued the actor for separate maintenance last June, charging cruelty. She said his 1957 earnings were $1,500 a week plus $15,000 from television appearances.

Married in 1940, the Michells separated last June 12.

Heart Attack Victim In 'Good' Condition

Armin Reinert, Shawano, chief engineer for Consolidated Badger Co-operative, was reported in good condition today at St. Elizabeth hospital after a heart attack Wednesday afternoon at Consolidated's Appleton plant, 1815 W. Spencer street.

Firemen said they administered oxygen to him for about 15 minutes starting about 3:05. Reinert was taken to the hospital in Lindy's ambulance.

Municipal Judge Attends Judicial Council Meeting

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede will attend a meeting of the state judicial council at the governor's office in Madison Thursday evening and Friday. He is a member, representing the Wisconsin state board of criminal court judges.

The judicial council is a state agency on which judges, attorneys and the public are represented. It collects judicial statistics and studies judicial administration and court procedure for possible improvements to be sent the legislature and the supreme court. It also acts as an advisory body to the state supreme court on rules regarding procedure.

Austria Willing To Participate In Conferences

Vienna, Austria—The government of militarily neutral Austria told Moscow Wednesday to participate in a Soviet-proposed east-west conference "if that is the desire of all participants."

Soviet Premier Bulganin in a letter Dec. 10 proposed Austria be invited to a summit conference to ease international tensions and preserve peace. Bulganin said "neutral Austria, situated in the heart of Europe, between the east-west military blocs" has a great interest in peace and could make a significant contribution toward easing tensions.

Chancellor Julius Raab made his reply public in parliament this morning. The note said Austria's contribution to such a conference would be limited but "this would not restrain us from offering our fullest services."

Raab told parliament he did not reply to two sections of the Bulganin letter:

1. The suggestion for a non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic treaty and Warsaw pact powers. Austria does not belong to either alliance.

2. The Polish government's proposal for a central European zone free of atomic weapons. Austria has no such weapons.

Offer to Negotiate Specific Issue Way of Fighting Summit Talks

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

We are engaged, so we are telling ourselves, in a propaganda contest with the Russians: We must prove to mankind that we rather than they are the true champions of peace. Although the progress of this contest cannot be scored exactly, we know on no less an authority than Dulles himself that at this stage in the game the Russians are leading. The best evidence of this is that there is mounting popular pressure in the western world in favor of accepting their proposal to hold another meeting at the summit.

Lippmann

The idea of a meeting at the summit has become the rallying point of the opposition parties in western Europe, and there headed idea is winning such are important signs that the popular support in the western idea is making deep inroads world. It has been said that the de- port the governments. In Ger- manies are easily deluded, many, the furious success of and will grasp at any straw. The answer to that question is, I believe, that the leaders of that they must in some measure bend with the pressure. Yet there are the strongest reasons for thinking that no Dulles, Dr. Adenauer, and Mac- millan have given the impres- sion not only that they do not want to negotiate at the summit by themselves but that they do not want to ne- giate at all. They have created a propaganda contest in which we are engaged, and I do not mean to suggest that there is any near- in Germany, in the Middle East prospect that the Russians will negotiate a limited settlement. terms which they and all the reason to think that both sides world know are not negotiable. The effective answer to the Russian proposal, which is un- doubtedly propagandist, 'would be a concrete effort to negotiate some specific issue through normal diplomatic channels. It might be the limitation of arms shipments to the Middle East. It might be the thinning out of the garrisons in Central Eu- rope. It might be the Polish plan for a central zone without nu- clear weapons. It must be something definite and substantial. As long as the western governments say no to a parley at the summit, say no to concrete and limited propos- als, they are surrendering the diplomatic and the propagand- ist initiative to the Soviet Union. And they cannot hope to gain the initiative by elaborate proposals about disarmament, which nobody understands, or by suggesting that in the vast reaches of outer space we might in the end do by a metaphysical negotiation what we cannot do by diplomacy on earth. I have been talking about the propaganda contest in which we are engaged, and I do not mean to suggest that there is any near- in Germany, in the Middle East prospect that the Russians will negotiate a limited settlement. Ruling Says Counties May Plow Town Roads At Its Own Expense

Madison —P— Wisconsin's attorney general held Tuesday that counties may, at their own expense, plow snow off town- ship roads. Atty. Gen. Honeck issued an opinion saying that wording of a state law regulating county construction, improvement and repair of highways and bridges appeared to be broad enough to cover the situation.

Europe, and that in these gov- ernments the existing opposi- tion parties will play a leading part. If and when that happens, it will be very important that we should not have alienated them and thus find ourselves on the outside looking in. (Copyright, 1958)

African Art to be Shown at Lecture

The Dark Continent will be explored by John W. Allen, Minneapolis, Minn., who will present "African Safari," an illustrated lecture, at 7:30 Saturday night at the Congregational church. The speaker, who will show colored slides, will also display African art objects of native craftsmen.

Allen, who is president of a specialties house in Hopkins, Minn., spent four months last year touring Africa. While there, he traveled in Nigeria, Belgian Congo, Ruanda Urundi, Uganda, Kenya and Tanganyika.

His 4,800 mile safari had a three-fold purpose: to photograph native tribesmen and wild life, to examine native art and crafts and to visit Christian mission stations.

Allen, who is an amateur photographer, has presented his travels to church, service, convention and art groups and has appeared on television in Memphis, Miami and Minneapolis.

In Good Taste Exchanged Gifts Cause Dilemma

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: About two months ago I was given a bridal shower. I received many lovely presents, but several of them were duplicates. Soon after the shower I exchanged the duplicate presents for things I did not receive and needed. Last week my engagement was broken. I would like to know what I am to do about returning the presents that I exchanged. Do I return the item I bought in exchange for the original gift, or must I buy a duplicate of the present that was given me and return that? I would be very grateful for your help in this matter.

Answer: If you can go to the store and exchange it back for the original present that would solve your problem. Otherwise, the only thing you can do is to explain frankly that you exchanged the present for something else and that you are returning it in place of the original.

Dear Mrs. Post: Might it be too impersonal to let the funeral director take care of the customary fee to the officiating clergyman at the funeral?

Answer: If the clergyman who officiates is a stranger to the family, perhaps even someone arranged for by the funeral director, his fee may be given impersonally. Otherwise, a member of the family generally prefers to take care of this, at the same time thanking the minister for his kindness.

Wee Princess Has Six Teeth On 1st Birthday

Monte Carlo — Princess Caroline of Monaco celebrated her first birthday today. The palace announced she has six teeth and likes to play.

The princess' parents, Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace, planned a small family luncheon — with a one-candle birthday cake.

The prince and his wife, the former actress Grace Kelly, attended a special thanksgiving mass this morning in the chilly private chapel of the hilltop palace.

The palace took official note of the birthday in a communique announcing the little princess "has six teeth, enjoys playing and is very sociable."

Princess Grace is expecting her second child in March.

kauna, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schreiber, route 4, Kaukauna.

The bride-elect was graduated from St. Mary High school, Menasha, and is employed at First National bank. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nett, Sr., route 3, New London, served in the marine corps for two years, with overseas duty in Japan. He is employed at the Marathon division of the American Can company in Menasha.

Princess Caroline Louise Marguerite, daughter of Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace of Monaco, showed little interest in the keyboard of her toy piano as she posed for this picture on the eve of her first birthday anniversary. Caroline, born Jan. 23, 1957, is the 31st generation of the Grimaldi family that has ruled Monaco since the 13th century. Princess Grace, the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, expects her second child in March. If it should be a boy, Princess Caroline would be demoted in the line of succession to 24 ancient European titles and her father's throne. (AP Wirephoto)

Games, Projects Keep Small Patients Happy in Sickroom

Playing home nurse to little Johnnie when the flu or one of the many childhood ailments gets him down isn't all a strictly medical affair, as you've probably discovered.

As soon as Johnnie's temperature falls below 101 or thereabouts, he's pretty much his old active self again, but in a smaller space. And that goes for your little girl too. Trouble is, you can't play football too well, will do much to keep children happy. Keeping up the appearance of the child and of the sickroom, having as many things as possible handy for the patient and keeping bright and cheery yourself will help in building morale.

The list of handy items, which encourages a feeling of self-sufficiency in the youngster — and this feeling is needed among older patients, too — includes: comb and brush, radio, clock, bell, something to drink, paper tissues, paper and pencil, waste basket or bag, and books.

As for mother's bedside disposition, she should be pleasant and cheerful, but don't overdo it. Sick people can be sensitive. Show your interest and concern but try not to continually hover over the sickbed.

Keep the mind busy by giving the patient something to look at; an object which will catch the interest of the patient in the little world about him. Among ideas suggested are:

1. Move the bed to where it faces a window, or place a mirror where it will reflect the view outside; you might make a paper border for the window to simulate a TV set or movie screen.
2. Put crumbs on the window ledge within the limits of the family doctor, feeding station by stuffing a strainer with suet, peanut butter, and birdseed.
3. Onions or potatoes sprout quickly when placed in a glass of water. In springtime, the budding twigs of most trees will blossom within a short time if placed in a vase or glass of water where the sun can reach them.

The greatest morale builders are tasks which can be helped. Perhaps there is some comparatively simple little chore around the house which can be done easily in the sickbed; labels for the kitchen shelves, pasting snapshots into the family album, compiling a date list of friends' birthdays and anniversaries, etc.

Among more fanciful pastimes are:

1. Wish Books — scrapbooks made by sewing or stapling several blank pieces of paper together, then filled with clippings, from magazines or newspapers, showing items the youngster would like to have, or places he'd like to visit, etc. These daydreams keep the hands and the mind busy;
2. Paper Bag Puppets — made from paper bags stuffed with shredded paper, with the neck tied with string and faces painted on;

3. Bathroom Sculpture — soap whittled with a blunt knife to form an animal or boat for the tub, or pieces of plastic sponge cut up and glued back to form gaily colored figures; "soap sponges" can be made by inserting a piece of soap into a slot cut in a sponge, which is then glued back together.

4. Mobiles — can be made by pasting pictures or colored sheets to light cardboard, then cut out in whimsical shapes and strung together or wired with a coat hanger; scotch tape or clip shapes to the string or wire until proper balance is achieved;

5. Potato Block Printing — draw a simple design or figure on the raw surface exposed when a potato is cut in half; cut away around the design and wet the raised surface with ink or water colors; impress the design to paper to make greeting cards or prints.

These projects more than likely will speed up junior's recovery, and keep him busy and contented in the process. At the same time, the home nurse is left with more time for her usual household duties.

Window Wall Effect With French Doors

The right fixtures make it possible to curtain French doors that open in three ways. Curtains can be hung on them, or at the sides to frame them without interfering with their opening and closing. Or, and as a suggestion to Mrs. W.E.R. who wants an idea for curtaining her seldom-used French doors especially attractively, the curtains needn't stop until it has glorified the whole wall.

Curtains to the floor and from one end of the wall to the other is a highly decorative feature for any room, Mrs. R., and on a traverse rod set above the doors, the curtains can draw back to allow the doors to open freely. When the doors aren't used, there need be no sign that they're there behind closed curtains. But better still, you can create the impression of a window wall—open the curtains to the sofa. Should I hang it there or a point that just covers the far sides of the frames, as in the sketch.

Mrs. V. A. "My husband and I think our new living room carpet should be gray, but I want end of the sofa alone if the to repaint our gray walls because I think the room is dull as it is, and match the new wall color to the carpet. Our sectional sofa is black and white tweed, two wood arm chairs have black leather back.

Beauty Hat, Hair Should Be in Harmony

By Marian Matthews

Fashion decrees for spring, 1958, the hat with upward lines—brims tilt up, turbans raise in flattering twists.

Many hats have a young, graceful back sweep. All of these show off the forehead to some degree and even the cloche hat may be folded at the hairline to show the face and emphasize its profile. Hat and hair should be in harmony.

The wind-swept feathery cap that features a head-hugging crown is excellent with many new hats, particularly for the cloche which can fit down well on the head. It will go under turbans, look pert with bretons and generally look well with the new unfitted, easy silhouette in the new fashions.

Reason for the flattery of this short coiffure is the soft, rounded, full, feathery bangs that are brought forward over the forehead. The effect is a wind-blown cap cut and this area of the hair-do

Man Has Privilege of Choosing Own Attendants for Wedding

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I plan to be married in February and four of my girl friends are standing up for me. My fiancé has asked three friends to stand up for him. He wants his 15-year-old brother to be the fourth. I don't want his brother because he's too young for my Ann Landers girl friends, and also he's too short. He's a very nice kid, but I'm afraid he would ruin the ceremony.

My future mother-in-law is wonderful and although I know she wants the boy in the ceremony, she wouldn't insist. When I told her how I felt she said to "forget it", and was very sweet, but I'm afraid she is hurt about it.

I want to do the right thing, but I want a nice wedding, too. I think the 15-year-old boy would look out of place and ruin everything. Please advise.

—T. G.

Just as you had the privilege of selecting the girls to stand up for you, your fiancé has the right to select the fellows he wants. You were wrong to veto the brother. I hope you'll tell your fiancé that you've reconsidered and that you want him.

This boy will be your brother-in-law long after some of the girl friends have disappeared from the scene. Having him in the ceremony could not possibly ruin it. But leaving him out could certainly wreck your relationship for years to come.

DEAR ANN: My cousin and his parents are having an argument about a motor scooter. He is 15 years old and has a paper route. Every week he saves $10. The boy wants a motor scooter and is able to buy one and keep it up himself. His parents read once where a boy was killed on a motor scooter and they are afraid to let him have one. They insist that he save his money for college. What do you think about this situation?—A. G.

A motor scooter, like any other inanimate object is not in itself dangerous. It depends on how the individual handles it.

Since I don't know the financial status of the family, it's difficult to say whether or not the boy should be deprived of something he wants badly and is willing to pay for in order to save for college. If his father cannot send him, then by all means he should forget about the motor scooter and save for his future education.

If he continues to save $10 a week, he'll have $1560 by the time he's ready for college, and let me tell you, this will just about cover the first year—maybe.

Diva Callas Hears 'Bravo' At Chicago

Chicago — If Maria Meneghini-Callas had any echo in her ear of the fiasco attending her Rome opera appearance, it vanished Wednesday night in a thunderous 10-minute ovation that set the Civic Opera house vibrating with shouts of bravo!

The concert sponsored by the Alliance Francaise brought her back to the scene of her first American triumph and also marked her first appearance since the Rome revolt Jan. 2.

At times, the audience appeared unable to wait for her to conclude an aria before beginning an outpouring of adoration. Not from the glittering dress circle nor the upper reaches of the galleries came any sound such as the catcalls and whistles she received at Rome.

In the Rome opera, singing the title role in Bellini's "Norma," the audience reaction caused her to quit after the first act. She claimed she was ill and had a temperature of 102. But critics and the Italian press claimed she lost her voice and then her temper. Even the Italian parliament got into the act with a great hue and cry raised among statesmen.

But Wednesday night, the 34-year-old diva seemed beyond

Men Better Behind Wheel Than Women Because of Confidence.

Los Angeles — Cathy Cinders may be the most audacious betrayer of her sex since the lady who started the swing toward double chins.

Cathy claims men are better drivers than women.

She may not be able to prove it, but she's not entirely without credentials. For four years, she has been teaching people to drive around Los Angeles—possibly the toughest place to navigate an automobile this side of the Okefinokee swamp.

Woman Learns More Easily

Cathy, one of the state's few female driving school professors, hasn't renounced her allegiance to "womankind" altogether. She says she'll concede that a man's confidence makes him a better driver, but adds that "his stubbornness about learning makes him a poorer pupil."

"I guess a woman learns more easily," she said, "but a discussion without a 'parting man drives better afterward.'" shot at the smug male.

Why?

Well, in the first place, Cathy said, "and he'll tell you over and over again: 'I know, I know, I know that.'"

"Then he does it wrong."

Needle Work

"Half the time," Cathy said, "a woman will stick her arm out for a signal and turn the wheel at the same time."

"In an emergency, men react better than women. They handle a car better, too."

Tend to be Over Cautious

Frequently, Cathy said, women tend to be over cautious, and poke along so slowly they could be overtaken by octogenarian strollers.

"We tell them, and try to make them understand, that sometimes it is as dangerous to be overcautious as it is to be overconfident," Cathy said. "Sometimes, it is a little difficult."

But Cathy wouldn't drop the

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

It is a fact of some significance that many of the conventions used by experts owe a large slice of whatever success they attain to the incompetence of the opposition. This, of course, would not reflect on the value of such conventions — except for one point, namely: the players who use these conventions profitably against weak opponents are lured into a false appraisal of their own methods, and when they come up against strong partnerships, they lean too heavily on these slender crutches.

Let's look at what did happen and also what should have happened in a certain case.

Boards of Education Elected to Authority

BY ANGELO PATRI

When a board of education is elected to office the people give them authority to run the schools and carry responsibility for what and how they do.

It may be wise and good, or it may be otherwise, depending on whom it concerns; but for good or ill it is the board's considered decision made by the authority of the people for whom they carry the responsibility.

Sometimes a parent forgets that a school principal, a board of education, or a teacher has been delegated authority by the people of the community and is answerable to them. If their answers are not approved by the people they have the power to remove them and put others more to their way of thinking in their places but while they hold office, theirs is the authority and the responsibility.

"What our school needs is a new ball field," said one citizen. "It would add everything to the school and to the town as well. Think what a Saturday ballgame played by the high school teams could mean to the town. Liven things up."

"I've talked and talked to that board and can't make a dent. Mossbacks. Dragging their heels everytime somebody suggests a bit of progress. Let things ride is their motto. They don't know this is the atomic age in education."

Now the board of education had said that while a ball field could be fun, the money (all they could lay hands on) was needed for the expansion of the school plants — new laboratories, new supplies, and most important, new teachers and higher salaries for all the staff. They could not spend money for a citizen's pet idea when the children needed so many far more important things.

But this gentleman went up and down the town, having little else to do, proclaiming the inefficiency of the "board," its backwardness, its blindness to present-day requirements. And many people, busy with their own affairs, got the idea that their board of education was a poor thing indeed — and unjustly, for the moment, condemned them.

School boards, school principals and teachers have sworn duties to perform. They have certain authority granted them by the people and along with that goes weighty responsibility, often made heavier by underdresses and coats followed the knowing and selfish people. 'Name the Team' Contest Scheduled By Fox Cities '9'

Club Directors Set Price Scale for 1958 Tickets

The Fox Cities Baseball club will sponsor a "name the team" contest, starting in mid-February. Club directors voted Wednesday night to let the baseball public select a nickname for the Fox Cities' new Three-I league entry.

Complete contest information and rules will be released in the near future. Directors also set most of the 1958 ticket prices. The individual game rates are: grandstand, 90 cents; bleachers, 65 cents; students, 35 cents. No decision has been made on whether to have reserved seats or box seats.

These rates were voted for blocks of tickets: season (65 games) $40; 30-game book, $20; 20-game book, $15; 10-game book, $7.50.

Club President Ray McClone appointed each of the 21 directors to two or more committees. Major committees and their chairmen are: contract with major league club, Dave

Detroit Seeks Running Back In NFL Trade

Detroit — George Wilson says he is waiting to hear from the Chicago Cardinals. Phila-Jim Myers of the Detroit Tigers and Green Bay Packers on possible player single-wing trades.

"I've talked with those three clubs lately," Wilson told a meeting of the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association Wednesday. "They all know other coaches we're interested in getting a good running back. Now it's up to them to make us a proposition."

Wilson's first choice of course, is Ollie Matson of the Cardinals. But he says there is very little chance of getting Matson unless the Lions were willing to part with a player like quarterback Bobby Layne.

Wilson says he will not trade either of his top quarterbacks Layne or Tobin Rote.

Logan Rejects Braves' 1st Offer, Plans to Play 154 Games in '58

Milwaukee — Shortstop Johnny Logan Wednesday night became the second Milwaukee Brave to announce dissatisfaction with 1958 terms offered by the National league baseball club.

In announcing he had returned the offer unsigned, Logan said, "There are a few important details that have to be ironed out before I sign. I hope to be in touch with General Manager John Quinn in the near future." Logan declined to discuss the details.

The first of the Braves to balk at 1958 terms was outfielder Bob Hazle who said Wednesday he had returned his contract unsigned.

On issues outside of the contract, Logan said he expects competition next season, but handicaps me in an injury and brushed his challengers aside along that line I'd like to point by declaring he plans to play out the shin infection on my left leg has healed, thanks to X-ray treatments. Iola to Visit Marion Court Friday Night

2 of 3 Co-Leaders Battle in CW's Cage Headliner

CENTRAL WISCONSIN CONFERENCE

Iola	W L	W L
7 1 Bonduel	3 3
7 1 Amherst	3 3
7 1 Wausau	1 2
7 1 Manawa	0 5

FRIDAY NIGHT'S GAMES: Wittenberg at Bonduel, Manawa at Amherst, Weyauwega at Wausau, Iola at Marion.

Marion High school's basketball Pigeons get a chance to atone for the only black spot on their Central Wisconsin conference record when they welcome Iola Friday night.

The game pairs two of the co-leaders in the conference. The other first place unit, Wittenberg, visits fifth-place Bonduel.

After trailing, 49-48, going into the last quarter, Iola stopped Marion, 62-54, on the Iola floor in late-November. Gary Larson hit 23 of the winners' points.

Iola, whose only loss came at Wittenberg (60-53) carries a 70.1 offensive average and a 60.9 defensive mark into its return meeting with the Pigeons. Marion's offensive mark (76.9) and defensive yield (55.9) are better.

Both clubs have good big men. Marion's is 6-3 Terry Balderson while the visitors feature 6-5 Gene Voie.

Wittenberg, whose only loss was a 63-43 decision at the hands of Marion, defeated Bonduel, 55-47, in an early meeting.

Fourth place Weyauwega goes after a repeat victory over Wausau on the Comets' floor in another Friday evening match. The first time around it was Wega 48, Wausau 43.

Amherst, which has captured but three of eight CW games in pursuit of its third straight title, welcomes Manawa. The Falcons triumphed, 48-44, in an earlier meeting.

Badgers, MU May Resume Cage Series

Milwaukee — Wisconsin and Marquette spokesmen confirmed Wednesday night they have discussed resuming the basketball series which ended with a Wisconsin victory in 1953.

Ivy Williamson, Badger athletic director, said he had discussed the situation seriously with Larry "Moon" Mullins, his counterpart at Marquette.

Marquette Coach Jack Nagle said, "We want to play Wisconsin. There's a definite possibility we'll meet in 1959."

"Bud" Foster, Wisconsin coach, said, "There's nothing to announce now, but I'm sure something can be done about the game in the future."

Because Wisconsin's 1958-59 schedule is all set, the soonest the game could be played is early in the 1959-60 season.

Penalties Abound As Montreal Tips Maple Leafs, 2-0

By The Associated Press The Montreal Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs know now, if they didn't before, that President Clarence Campbell meant business when he told his officials to crack down on players who beef about penalties.

As the Canadiens extend their lead over second place New York to 19 points with a 2-0 victory over the Leafs Wednesday night, the league's get-tough policy was very much in evidence.

Referee Frank Udvari called 12 minor penalties, eight of them against the Canadiens. In addition, he handed out two 10-minute misconduct penalties to the Canadiens and a 10-minute misconduct and game misconduct to George Armstrong, Toronto center.

Carroll Quintet Tops Whitewater

Whitewater — Carroll college defeated Whitewater's late rally and downed the Quakers, 71-65, Wednesday night, providing the victory was Carroll's sixth in 12 games.

Defensively, Carroll felt a lot better than the home club's eleventh defeat. Knowing well, Carroll's 20 points was a good thing to know second high for Carroll.

The victory was Carroll's sixth in 12 games.

Mazur Accepts Warrior Post

Former Notre Dame Griddler Signs as Backfield Coach

New Orleans — Johnny Mazur, 1-time Notre Dame quarterback and backfield coach at Tulane for the past three seasons, today accepted the backfield coaching job at Marquette.

The 27-year-old native of Plymouth, Pa., said he regretted leaving Tulane, but termed the Marquette offer "one I could not turn down."

He will replace John McGee, who resigned last week. Mazur will join five other former Notre Dame players on the staff of head coach Johnny Druze, a former assistant coach at Notre Dame. Druze's Marquette teams have lost 19 straight games.

Mazur played professional football in the Canadian league with Vancouver. He played on the 1949-50-51 Notre Dame teams and was also a member of the Irish basketball team.

He plans to leave for Milwaukee next week.

Denmark Visits Winneconne For Little 9 Cage Feature

Winneconne's Wolves attempt to keep alive their slim chances for the Little Nine conference basketball championship Friday night when they welcome potent Denmark in the circuit's main attraction.

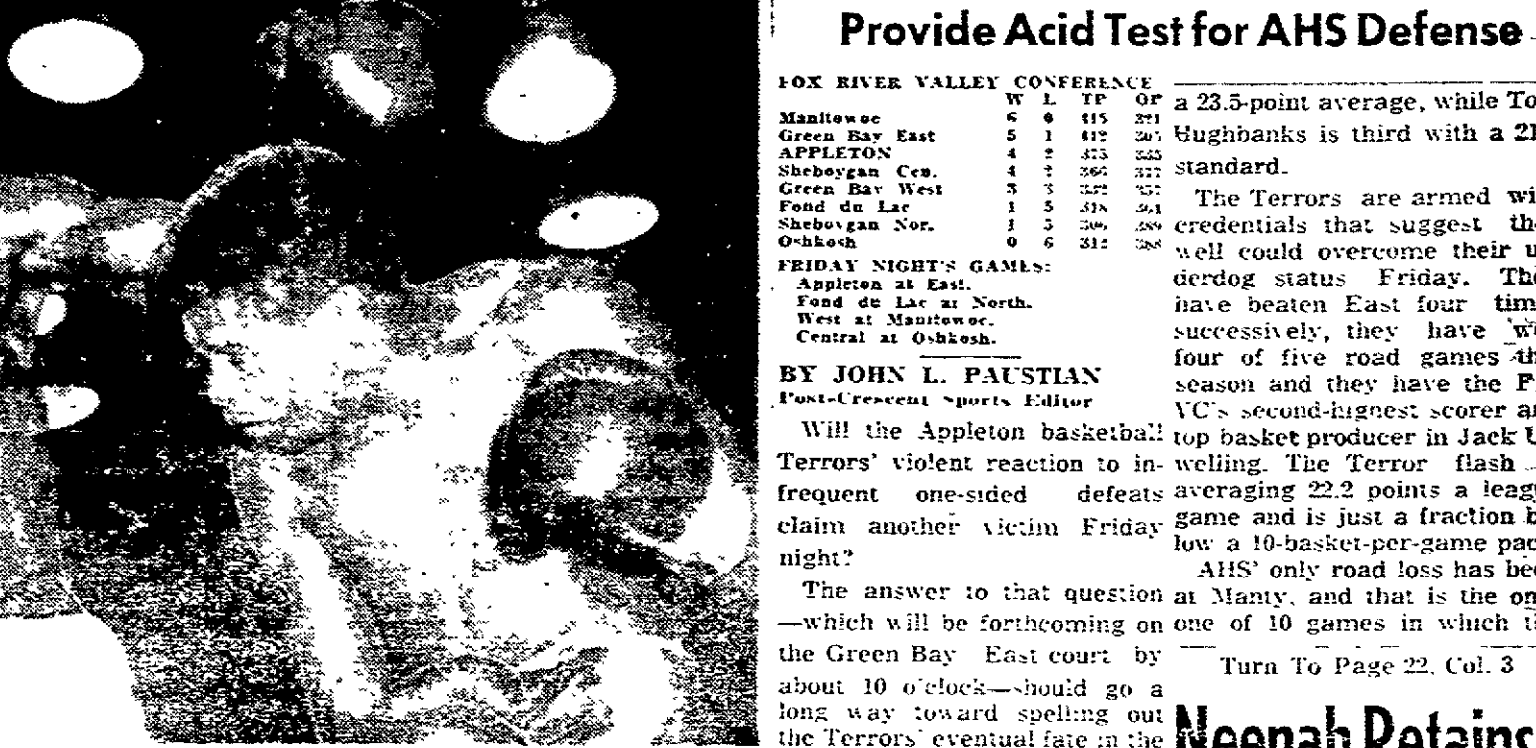

If the Wolves lose, the best they can do is tie for the championship, in the highly improbable case that Hortonville loses three of its final four games.

Only Loss The Polar Bears, winners of nine straight tilts, and 12 in a row, overall, will be heavily favored to dispatch visiting Hibbert Friday.

Billings, Mont. — Lou Bailey, Denmark's only loss in 1957-58, Peoria, Ill., outpointed Little Nine starts was a 69-49 Jim Hagerie, 1952, St. Paul, setback at the hands of Hortonville a week ago. Coach

Terrors Strive to Continue Comeback at East Friday

Bid for Fifth Straight Win In Series; Prentice, Hughbanks Provide Acid Test for AHS Defense

The Terrors are armed with credentials that suggest they well could overcome their underdog status Friday. They have beaten East four times successively, they have won four of five road games this season and they have the PRVC's second-highest scorer and top basket producer in Jack Ulling. The Terror flash is averaging 22.2 points a league game and is just a fraction below a 10-basket-per-game pace.

AHS' only road loss has been at Manty, and that is the only one of 10 games in which the

Fight to Draw Mims and Boyd

Neither Fighter Hurt in 10-Round Middleweight Scrap

Miami Beach, Fla.—The stage was set today for a rematch between Holly Mims, veteran Washington scrapper, and Bobby Boyd, lanky puncher from Chicago, to decide which of these two mediocre middleweights is the better.

Mims and Boyd fought to a draw in the Auditorium arena last Wednesday night.

Neither fighter was badly damaged in the 10-round scrap. Boyd hit the canvas in the middle of the eighth round after a solid right to the chin.

64 Ring Engagements "Next to the punch that kayoed Pat Byers, this was the best 1-shot I ever landed," said Mims, who has had 64 ring engagements in 10 years.

Boyd, who thought he won, admitted it was a solid blow, but said: "Man, that should prove I ain't got no glass chin. He knocked me down clean, but I wasn't hurt."

Mims, who had not fought since April, said he was tense and needed a warmup.

Mims weighed 156 to Boyd's 161½. He crouched and ducked and tied up his taller foe with arm locks that kept Referee Eddie Coachman busy separating them. Boyd scored with left jabs and right crosses but his tough opponent kept rushing in to slow down the action.

Auburn Upsets Georgia Tech Quint, 80-72

By The Associated Press It might sound screwy, but maybe Georgia Tech has lost just in time to win in college basketball.

Could be the 80-72 upset by Auburn Wednesday night was just what Tech needed before taking on Kentucky and Tennessee, running 1-2 in the Southeastern conference, this weekend.

The defeat didn't hurt the Yellow Jackets (10-6). It was a non-conference game. But it should have ploughed under any signs of complacency that, may have cropped up after four consecutive victories.

There already had been some talk Tech might be ready to a giant upset. Vanderbilt Coach Bob Polk, beaten, 81-60, by Tech last Saturday, was so impressed he figured Tech could beat Tennessee Saturday and then take Kentucky Monday.

That double kill would hoist Tech from third (4-2) to second in SEC play. Kentucky is the leader at 5-0 with Tennessee second at 3-1.

The upset came on a light night that also saw St. Bonaventure defeat Niagara, 69-66, and Duquesne whip Toledo, 67-54.

Bowlers Must Pay High Price To Have Above-200 Average

BY JOE WILMAN Would you like to be a star bowler? Most of you would like to, I know, but do you realize the price you must pay to be able to keep that average up over 200 under all sorts of conditions and tournament pressure?

First, you should bowl at least five days a week. Six or seven days is more like it.

Second, you must roll from six to 10 games each day plus special practice on individual spares and splits.

Third, you should read and study everything you can on bowling and bowlers.

Fourth, you must watch lots of bowling. Studying the stars in action can help your game.

Fifth, you must keep yourself in good physical condition. You can't let things slide for a few weeks or you'll pay for it in low scores.

Sixth, you must experiment until you have a good strike ball.

Seventh, you must work until you master control and consistency.

Eighth, you must get "hot" in the ABC, the All-Star or one of the other national tournaments to establish your reputation.

With all these points on your side, your delivery form will look something like we show today—perfect timing, footwork and armswing.

Terror Quint Visits East Friday Night

Terrors have permitted the opposition more than 55 points. East's defense has been even better. The Red Devils have permitted only 50.8 points on the average, compared to the Terrors' 55.8. On offense, the Red Devils hold a 68.7 to 62.5 average edge.

East's overall record is 8-2, compared with the Terrors' 7-3. East succumbed to a last-period Kimberly rally, 51-49, as the Papermakers' Jack Lamers dogged Prentice incessantly and held him to 12 points. Manitowoc shaded East, 61-58, in overtime.

Unexcelled For Thrills

Last season's title-winning Terrors were unable to halt Prentice (who scored 35 and 30 points) but they blanketed the remainder of the East cast sufficiently to pull out a pair of 1-point wins. The 61-60 overtime decision at East and the 65-64 win at Appleton fashioned on a monumental fourth-quarter comeback were unexcelled for thrills in 1956-7 FRVC play.

AHS also swept the previous season's series. Coach Dick Emanuel's Terrors have lost only once in the last six starts against East. That was 68-67 game, in which East trailed by 14 points early in the second half. Since Emanuel took the AHS helm, five of the eight Terror-East games have been decided by margins of 1 to 4 points.

AHS' victory chances may depend on how well its tall trio—6-4 Howie Hamann, 6-4 Tom Verkuilen and 6-5 Ron Abel—is able to restrict the scoring and rebounding efforts of Prentice and Hughbanks. The three Appletonians, who will alternate in filling two of the forecourt spots, will be faced with their supreme test of the season.

The 6-3 Prentice, a deadly shot and an excellent maneuverer, is scoring at just about the same clip which gave him last season's FRVC individual title. Hughbanks, a 6-4 southpaw, is even better than he was a year ago, both as a shot-maker and a board-man. His scoring is about seven points a game higher than it was in 1956-7.

Last year, Prentice and Hughbanks accounted for about 65 per cent of their team's FRVC points. They're right back at it, with 66.5 per cent of the current total.

Nelson Develops The 6-2 Bob Wittig gave opponents more to worry about when he scored 22 points against East. However, in the other five league games, he averaged only five points. Tom Nelson has developed fast in the backcourt and is averaging nearly 10 points a game.

Hamann is the Terrors' second best league scorer with an average of 8.8.

Dick King and Bill Bedard are likely to join Hamann, Verkuilen and Ullwelling in AHS' starting array.

El Centro, Calif.—J. C. Goosie, of Knoxville, Tenn., won the 36-hole $5,000 El Centro-Mexicali Open Golf tournament Wednesday, with a 140, despite a final-round 72.

his mind and accept the $16,000-a-year post, which also includes rent-free use of a house. He was given a 4-year contract.

"They were dynamic, impressive young men with a sparkle in their eye, and they sold me, really," Myers said at Ames, Iowa. The two students headed a "get Myers" campaign among the student body.

They passed up three final exams to fly to Ames where they told him they wouldn't take no for an answer.

Myers, 36, said he hopes to come here later this week.

Myers had withdrawn from consideration for the post last week when Navy's Eddie Erdelatz flew here for a visit and the Aggie board tabled 5-4 a motion to hire Myers, who was then the top prospect.

Norris Denies D'Amato Feud

IBC President Wants Action in Heavyweight Class

Chicago —P— Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club, wants the heavyweight division activated again and disclaims any feud with champion Floyd Patterson's manager.

"D'Amato (manager Gus D'Amato) says he won't do business with the IBC because we failed to live up to an agreement to get bouts for some of his preliminary fighters," said Norris. "Patterson simply is being used as a pawn in this thing, but I say let D'Amato go box for any promoter he wants—and I'd like a chance to compete with any other promoter—but let's get the heavyweight division activated again."

"Our hands are tied by D'Amato's refusal to sit down and talk," Norris continued in an interview. "I'm certainly not feuding with him. In this business you can't afford feuds. I'd go to Alaska to make a heavyweight title match."

"Patterson already should have faced Eddie Macenen or Zora Folley, who meet March 17 at San Francisco. And then if he won, he could meet the winner of the Willie Pastrano-Roy Harris match."

Ted Quashes Reports That He Has Broken Ankle Bones

Boston —P— Ted Williams and two doctors have quashed reports that the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger's baseball career is endangered by broken ankle bones.

Williams told Boston sports writers by phone from his Florida home Wednesday that he sprained the ankle on a fishing trip in Labrador last fall. He flatly denied any bones were broken.

A report in the Boston Traveler had said his future baseball status was in jeopardy because of two small broken bones in his right ankle.

Ankle Still Sore

The 1957 American league batting king said the ankle still is a little sore but he expects to be ready for the 1958 season.

Ted was backed up by Dr. George Bennett of Baltimore and Dr. Russell Sullivan of Boston, who viewed X-rays of the tender ankle.

"The X-rays are all right and as for Ted's career being endangered, that's a lot of non-sense," said Dr. Sullivan, who jogged or ran.

Board Control Keys Michigan's Success

Indiana Is Top Shooting Team in Big 10 With .412

Chicago —P— Control of the boards has been Michigan's key to success in the Big Ten basketball lead.

Official conference statistics show that the Wolverines rank fifth in field goal percentage with .356, but they are No. 1 in rebounds with an average of 52 recoveries in posting a 3-1 league record.

Omo State, locked with Indiana in second place with 3-2.

Dutra Shoots 69 in PGA Seniors' Play

Dunedin, Fla. —P— The kids in the nineteenth PGA Seniors' golf tournament — those between 50 and 55 — began firing today hoping to beat the line 69 turned in by Mortie Dutra, and grab the first round lead.

Dutra, 58-year-old former Seniors' champ from Calexico, Calif., and the other 55-and-over swingers shot their opening rounds Wednesday. The huge field—260 entries—were filed—had to be divided into sections. The 72-hole tournament is spread over six days.

Top contenders among those in the second-day lineup included last year's runner-up Bob Stuppel of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Jack Ryan of Louisville, Ky.; Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Fay Coleman of Los Angeles.

Dutra, who never won a major event during his active tournament days, was one of two par-busters among the 110 seniors who completed their first 18.

The Californian's 3-under-par 69 gave him a 2-stroke edge over 55-year-old Walter F. Hall of Hyannis, Mass.

treated Williams for a shoulder separation in 1954.

Dr. Bennett Johns Hopkins hospital staff member said there was no break but the X-rays did show "real small pieces of bone—not big enough to be really called chips."

He explained the tiny splinters probably have been in the ankle for years and won't bother Williams' play.

William said he taped the ankle after the sprain but he suffered a little pain when he jogged or ran.

ana in second place with 3-2. is second in rebounds with a 51 average while the Hoosiers are third with better than 46.

Two Games Saturday

Only two Big Ten games are slated Saturday. Iowa at Minnesota for an afternoon TV attraction and Northwestern at Michigan State.

Lack of height resulting in the poorest rebound mark in the conference, an average of 31, reflects Illinois' last place standing with a 1-3 mark. The Illini are third in hitting field goals at a 38.4 clip and third in free throw shooting with 71.6.

The hottest shooting team is Indiana with .412 from the floor while Northwestern is next with 40.5. Indiana's .758 also tops the foul line accuracy with Michigan second with .736.

Indiana's Archie Dees leads the individual scoring with a 26.6 average, followed by Dor. Ohl of Illinois with 24.3. George Kline of Minnesota with 22.7 and Pete Tillotson of Michigan with 20.8.

Dees is tops in field goal accuracy with .389 and John Green of Michigan State is second with .320. Green who is twentieth in the scoring race with a 14.5 mark is first in grabbing rebounds. He has retrieved 74 in four games. Frank Howard of Ohio State has 75 and Dees 71 — both in five games.

Search Swings to Possible Survivors Of Weather Plane

Honolulu —P— Search for seven men aboard a crashed military air transport plane was abandoned last night but the navy continued to look for possible survivors of a vanished weather plane off Guam.

Faint radio distress signals spurred the search for 10 air force men aboard the weather reconnaissance plane that disappeared Jan 15 while entering the eye of a typhoon.

The radio signals heard again yesterday, could have come from a hand-cranked transmitter on a raft.

Search for the seven aboard a MATS plane that crashed about 275 miles southwest of Hawaii was called off after a half-ton of airplane debris was returned to Pearl Harbor. Much of it had burned.

Lightweight Flannel Debut Fashion News for This Year

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Good news for early spring—late winter, too—is the coming debut of a warm but lightweight Orlon-wool flannel material for suits and sports coats.

It weighs only eight to eight and a half ounces per yard. Formerly you couldn't find a decent flannel weighing less than 11 ounces to the yard.

We call this "good news" because just about every man likes, and looks good in, flannel. It was always a shame that its comparatively heavy weight restricted it to winter wear.

The Orlon and wool blend is, for the price, the softest most wrinkle-resistant fabric around.

Lighter Weights

Speaking of weight the most striking evidence of progress presented at the International Association of Clothing Designers show in Philadelphia last week was the fact that the average man's wardrobe today weighs less than that of his dad or granddad.

Friday Night's Games:

Valders at Kohler.
Brillion at Chilton.
Elkhart Lake at Sheboygan Falls.
Plymouth at Kiel.

The Brillion and Chilton High school basketball teams will strive to break losing streaks at each other's expense Friday night on the Tigers' court.

The winless Tigers have lost all seven of their Eastern Wisconsin conference starts. Brillion has dropped its last three EW outings. This will be their only meeting of the season.

Brillion's league wins have been over Elkhart Lake (68-67) and Kiel (68-58).

League-topping Plymouth is expected to have no trouble rolling to its eighth straight win in its invasion of Kiel. Runner-up Kohler seeks to remain in close pursuit against hot-and-cold Valders.

Sheboygan Falls' Henry Vandishorn is the circuit's leading scorer, with 15.4 points in seven games. Brillion's Lloyd Herwig ranks third with a 19.4-point average.

Dave Kaiser Becomes Engaged During Break In Marriage Class

East Lansing, Mich. —P— Dave Kaiser showed the same sharp timing that made him an outstanding Michigan State football end when he popped the big question.

Kaiser slipped in during a break in a classroom period and slipped an engagement ring on the finger of Pat Kelley, blonde cheerleader.

The class was "social work 233" which the MSU catalog describes as "preparation for marriage with emphasis on selection of a husband or wife."

C. S. Bell Candidate For Neenah Mayor

City Council or Voters Can Demand Primary Election to Narrow List

Neenah — The race for mayor broke wide open this morning when Chester S. Bell, 67, 251 E. Wisconsin avenue, applied for nomination papers. Bell will oppose Mayor George E. Sande, who is running for reelection, and Warren E. Wilke in either the April 1 city election or a primary election on March 4.

A primary election is not required in Neenah, but may be held. State statute requires either the city council or the voters by petition to demand a primary within three days after the deadline for filing papers. Papers must be filed by next Tuesday, so the city council, if it is to call a primary, must meet before midnight Friday.

Voters can demand a primary by filing a petition signed by at least 674 persons before the city hall closes Friday afternoon. This number is one-tenth the number voting for governor in the last gubernatorial election.

Statutes also provide that the primary election, if one is held, be four weeks before the general election. Thus if there is a primary here it will be on March 4.

Need in Menasha The city council also has the option of passing an ordinance requiring a primary election whenever more than two candidates are nominated. Menasha adopted such an ordinance.

Acute Care Patient Load, Needs Studied

Hospital Trustees Would Increase Number of Beds to 183 Next Year

(Editor's note: This is the fifth in a series of reports on the study made by Theda Clark Memorial hospital's board of trustees which led to its master plan for the hospital development and expansion.)

Neenah — First consideration was given by the board of trustees of Theda Clark Memorial hospital as it worked out its master plan of hospital development, to the number of beds for acute care patients. It will be needed for acute care patients, be in the 1960's and estimated. Those are the patients for medical, surgical, pediatric or obstetrical purposes.

Presently, the hospital has 42 beds for medical patients, 22 for surgical patients, 22 for pediatric (children) patients and 33 for obstetrical patients. The floor space occupied by these bed facilities is about 38 per cent of the total floor area of the hospital.

On the basis of past experience and the average daily census of 149 during the last fiscal year, the board is considering increasing the number of beds by 43, or 75 if the chronic case patients are included, during the 10-year expansion interval. This would bring the total number of acute care beds to 183. This expansion program would begin next year under the present proposal. The architectural firm of Schmidt, Garden and Erikson of Chicago already is busy blueprinting suggested plans for this next stage of development.

The board explains again that these plans are not final. One of the principal factors involved in going ahead with even this first expansion phase will be how much money it will cost and where the money will come from. It might be asked, if the average daily census is 149, and assuming these patients occupied beds, would it not follow that increasing the bed capacity to 183 would leave 35 unoccupied beds?

The answer lies in two factors: First, the accepted standard of all hospitals and their associations that for safety route 1, Menasha, was announced today at St. Elizabeth occupancy of the total hospital hospital.

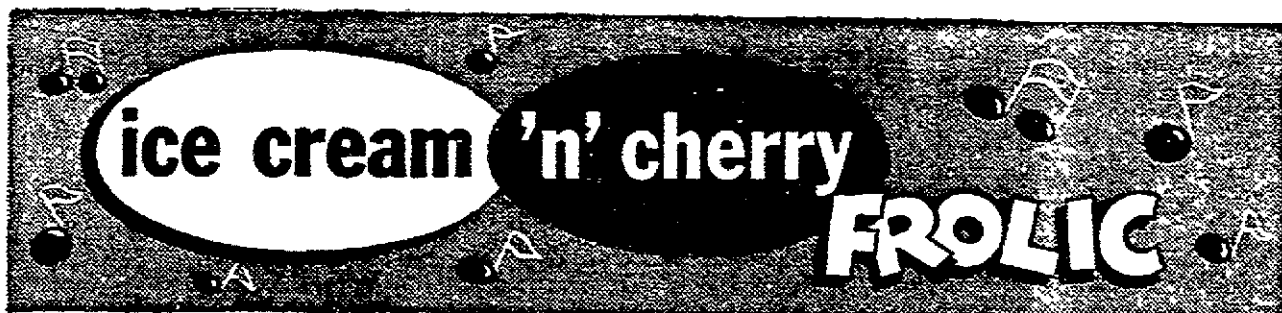

Many factors will be re-evaluated and re-studied before each development stage is complete. The trustees also will take into account the most effective and economic operation of the hospital at each stage of expansion.

The report for the trustees of the endowment fund was given by S. N. Pickard and was followed by reports of the standing committees. Explanations of the work done by the committees were given by the chairman.

Miss Rammel read the objectives of the VNA and illustrated how the nursing staff is meeting those objectives with stories of actual occurrence in 1937's nursing care.

The meeting was opened with a welcome by the president, Mrs. Richard Johnson, and introduction of the nursing staff. Mrs. Johnson extended her thanks to the members of the board and to all those who contribute to the Community Chest of which the VNA is a member agency.

Bluejays Collide With Raider Quint

Conference Winners Bring
3-3 Record Into Friday Tilt

Menasha — Vanquished in its last three starts, Menasha will try to get back on the winning track when it meets Two Rivers here Friday night to close the first half of the M.O. Eastern conference schedule.

The Bluejays take a 2-4 conference record into their home game while the Raiders have whose hopes of successfully defending their conference crown are rapidly fading. Have 3-3 Menasha's overall mark is 3-7 since returning from the holiday recess. The Bluejays haven't been able to find the formula for success. The last victory was a 78-48 trouncing of Clintonville on Dec. 20.

On Jan. 10 they trekked to Kaukauna and were surprised to find the Raiders bowled to Manitoba by a single point and they forced Neenah to score in the last few seconds for a 57-55 win to keep the latter's winning skein going.

Clintonville came within a hair of upsetting them they lost to Kimberly by four and dropped a 17-point decision to Shawano at home. The game matches the conference's second and fourth ranking scorers. The Raiders' Ron Brault has 143 points for second place, just three behind pace-setting Marry Gharrity of Shawano. Don Nelson of Jays is fourth with 106.

Both boys were set down with their lowest totals of the season last weekend. Brault was held to 15 points by Shawano.

Rockets Risk Perfect Slate Against Undeclared Indians

State Champs Haven't Been Beaten Since Last February

Neenah — The eyes of the Mid-Eastern conference (and much of the state as well) will be focussed on Shawano Friday night when the undefeated basketball gladiators of Neenah and Shawano High schools try to snap the other's winning skein with the Mid-Eastern conference lead the prize.

The Rockets will be back in action Saturday night for another out of town fracas, this time a junket to Clintonville to open the second half of the 1-game conference schedule.

Ranked High Friday's pairing is another example of the power of the Mid-Eastern conference which has produced three of the last five state basketball champions. Going into the struggle, Shawano is ranked No. 1, Neenah No. 3 and it isn't too often that teams ranked that high get to face each other at this point in the season. Both are 11-0 for the year.

Last winter when Shawano and Two Rivers played their first game both were undefeated but the state rankings hadn't been announced. When they met the second time Two Rivers was No. 2 and Shawano fourth.

Provide Acid Test The Rockets will give the defending state champs their big acid test. The Indians haven't been pressed all year and the 12-point win over Menasha was the narrowest margin of victory although it took a strong third quarter to push them ahead.

Shawano's winning string currently stands at 21. It lost to Two Rivers, 88-80 last Feb. 22 and then whipped the Rockets 93-68 and New London 48-43 in their final conference games. Wins were over Antigo, Wausau and Oconto Falls in the Oconto regional, Niagara and Wausau Point sectional and Osseo. Two Rivers and Madison West fell in the state meet. They've added 11 more victims this year.

Home Floor Edge Neenah had to start its skein from scratch this season for it lost to Appleton in the consolation round of the Menasha sub-regional tournament to close out the 1956-57 season.

Besides the home floor edge the Indians will also have a decided height advantage. Neenah's guards Dave Thomsen and Ed Meyer are about the same size as Shawano's Harley Lyons and John Cantwell but in the front line the state champs are bigger.

Fred Opperman, 6-6 1/2 center, who always was a problem for Neenah, graduated but the Indians got a king-sized replacement in Norm Ostepinski from Milwaukee Boys Tech. Although he isn't averaging 22 points a game as he did in Milwaukee, he consistently hits in the double figures and actually doesn't have to score much with boys like Cantwell and Marty Gharrity hitting from the outside.

Heights Listed Paul Timm, who played with the Jayvees last year, is 6-3 1/2 and Bernie Prusik, a member of the 10-man state tourney team, is 6-4. Gharrity is 6-2 and

Lakeview Meets Two Volleyball Foes; Can Deadlock for Crown

The Vagabonds meet First Congregational in the 7 o'clock game and Bergstrom Paper at 7:45. The game will count as a practice test for Bergstrom's, which is entering the league for second round play. The Lakeview team can tie for the first half championship by winning all six games. The Christophers lead with a 16-3 record. Lakeview has 10-3 Congregational 10-8, McHugh Septics 10-11 and Whiting Baptists 2-19.

reserves Ron Hoppe and Guy Booth, both sophomores, are 6-2 and 6-0 respectively.

Other squad members are Tom Spohn, 5-10, a letterman. Dick Frechette, Ron Erbrecht, and Ren Ketchenago, who hit 14 against Two Rivers last week, all 5-8. Lyons is listed at 5-9 1/2 and Cantwell at 5-9 in the Shawano program.

Neenah's tallest is Fred Segelink at 6-3. Gene Gries is about 6-2 and Pete Bylow and Bill Kuehl are around the 6-0 mark. Gries is rapidly rounding into shape after missing most of December and the early January games because of illness. His rebounding was missed but he looked sharp in his brief appearance against Menasha last week.

Zephyrs Lose Below With Sprained Ankle; Play Wayland Preps

High Scorer Expected to Miss 3-4 Weeks of Play; Marty Meyer Coach of Beaver Dam Five

Menasha — St. Mary will bump into a new foe on its goals, they lost by more points in a basketball schedule Friday evening when it jaunts down to Beaver Dam to face Wayland academy. The Zephyrs will have to tackle Wayland and the rest of their foes for the next three or four weeks without high-scoring Pat Below. Below, top scorer on the squad and the team's most consistent marksman, suffered a severe ankle sprain in practice earlier this week and Coach Ralph McClone doesn't expect to have him back for three or four weeks, or about tournament time.

Casualty List Grows The casualty list continued to grow Wednesday when Joe Rechner, reserve center, also received an ankle sprain. His playing status for Friday is unknown at this time. Denny Zapp, another center, missed last Saturday's Springs game because of illness and isn't expected to play Friday either.

The Zephyrs have a two game losing streak that they hope to break at Beaver Dam. Since the first of the year, they've only been victorious once in four starts. They topped highly rated Wausau New-ber to fell to Kimberly. St. Lawrence seminary and Springs.

Rebounding Poor In the Springs, the Zephyrs met a hot free throw shooting squad, which canned 34 of 44 shots and, although the town 43-42 Tuesday evening in Menashans had nine more field its most recent outing. Flom scored 14 points in that game. Dunnuck took top honors with 22. The Beaver Dam school topped Northwestern of Waterchurtries and, although the town 43-42 Tuesday evening in Menashans had nine more field

St. Mary Band Concert to be Held on Sunday

'My Fair Lady'
Selections Head
Annual Program

Menasha — Several selections from the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady" will highlight St. Mary's second annual mid-winter band concert at 8 o'clock Sunday night in the school auditorium.

According to Band Director Bernard Kiel, the grade school band will open the program with five selections from Fred Weber's "Fun for All" band book and the Belwin Elementary Band Method book.

The high school band will open its part of the concert with the school's theme song "The Bells of St. Mary's." Solos will be played by Betty Letter on the flute, and Joan Rankin, clarinet.

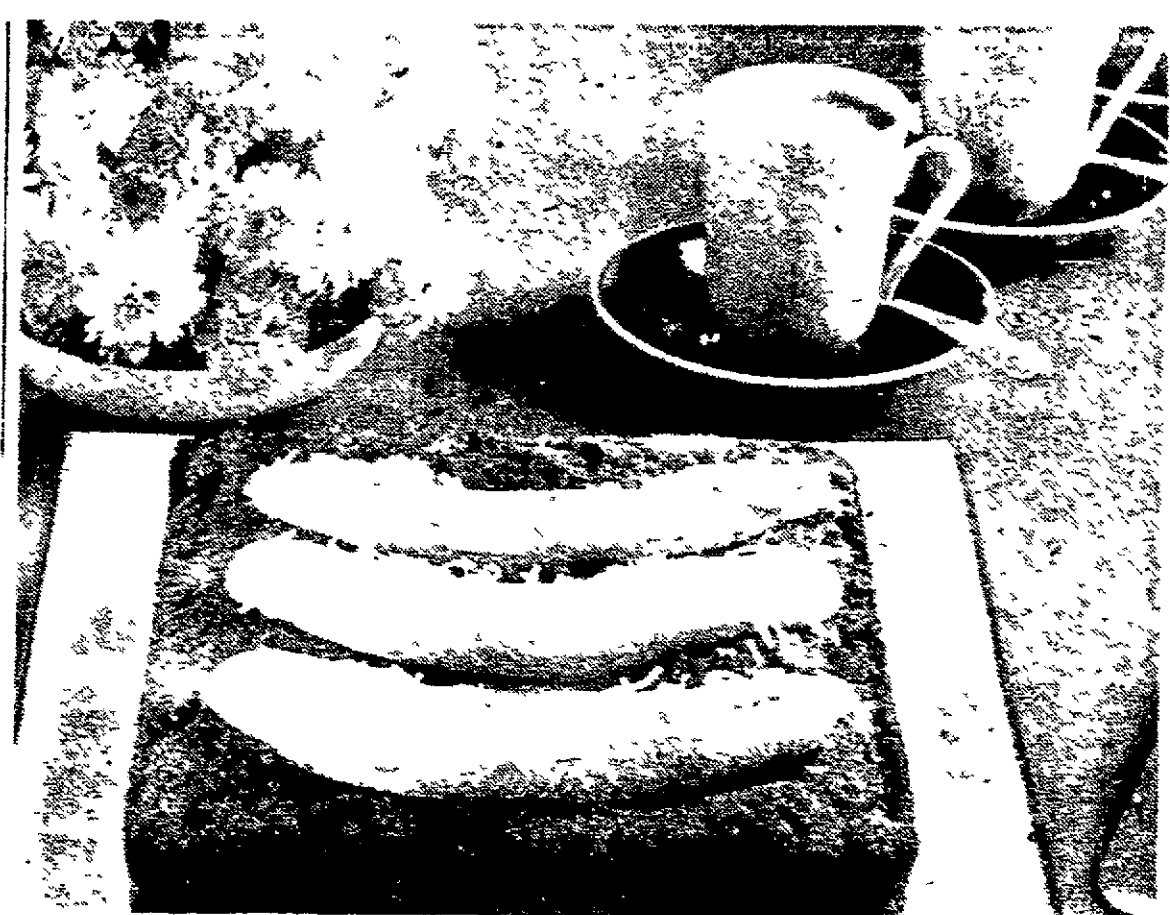

Other selections by the high school band are "Prelude and Chorale," "The Cathedral Canon," "National Emblem March," "Prisoner of War March," a three scene number built around a forest, fiesta and Sunset boulevard, and a Latin American number.

Adult tickets can be purchased from band members. Students are to pay at the door.

A solo and ensemble festival will be held at St. Mary's on April 19; the spring concert on April 20, and the Oshkosh State Teachers college chorus and orchestra will appear at the school in April.

Use Bread Varieties

Families get tired of plain white bread? Serve cracked wheat, pumpernickel and rye sometimes.

Nourishing and Delicious Snack for cool weather is this Banana Nut Cake with cups of piping hot chocolate.

Instant Milk Recipes for Snack Time

Here's a snack which will appeal to all ages in the family—from the youngsters to grandparents! It's a delicious Banana Nut Cake served with piping hot chocolate.

There's a hidden bonus in the cake for it is enriched with instant nonfat dry milk powder and likewise the hot chocolate also is fortified with this nourishing food product. Dry milk is a rich source of protein, calcium and riboflavin.

Banana Nut Cake
5 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
3 ripe bananas, cut in halves, lengthwise
1/2 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup shredded coconut
Cream four tablespoons of the butter; gradually add sugar, beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs; beat well.

Sift together flour, instant dry milk powder, baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture; blend well. Pour batter into greased (8-inch) square baking pan; spread evenly.

Melt remaining butter; stir in lemon juice. Arrange bananas stew or ragout, add one teaspoon of batter; brush with spoon curry powder to flour in lemon-butter mixture. Sprinkle with brown sugar and coconut.

Apple Cups With Rainbow Slaw For Lunch-Box Set

Somehow the lunch-box set seems to multiply in the winter with every mother challenged to think up new foods for eating at school.

Here is one excellent suggestion for a slaw that combines apples, grated vegetables and energy building raisins.

Apple Cups
2 large red apples
2-3 cup grated cabbage
2-3 cup apple pulp
2-3 cup grated carrots
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Salt to taste

Halve the apples, core and scrape out pulp to make a firm shell; dip apples in lemon water wash to prevent discoloring. Toss together grated cabbage, grated carrots, apple pulp and raisins. Add mayonnaise which has been thinned with lemon juice and salted to taste.

Mix and heap into apple cups which have been placed in the center of a foil square. Fold over foil. Place in lunch-box and expect said box to come home empty.

Acorn Squash

Acorn squash is one of those vegetables that is especially appealing when served in its natural container. For a delicious light lunch idea, fill half an acorn squash with creamed chicken. Garnish and serve.

Bake in a moderate 350-degree oven 45 minutes or until top of cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Remove from baking pan; cool on rack.

Hot Chocolate
3 cups water
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
3 tablespoons cocoa
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle milk powder, cocoa and sugar over surface. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Heat over boiling water. Add vanilla just before serving.

Strange Paper Credit Union Sets Meeting

Assets Up $42,000
For Increase of
38 Pct. in Year

Menasha — A credit committee and two directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the John Strange Paper company employees credit union at 8 o'clock Sunday night at the Marathon Nicolet Union hall. Ed Muenleberg, a representative of the Wisconsin Credit Union league, will speak. Dancing and a buffet luncheon will follow.

The credit union increased its assets more than $42,000 over the previous year, approximating a growth of 38 per cent. Total assets at the end of the year were $233,406.

Personal loans granted came to $97,556, an increase of $18,200, while real estate loans made for the first time last year, totaled $13,360.

Lemon Juice Adds Flavor to Salmon

If you sprinkle your salmon steaks with lemon juice as well as with melted butter before broiling, they'll taste especially savory.

Touch of Curry

Next time you use oxtails for lemon juice. Arrange bananas stew or ragout, add one teaspoon of batter; brush with spoon curry powder to flour in lemon-butter mixture. Sprinkle with brown sugar and coconut.

Fruits, Nuts Add Zest to Baked Apples

For fine baked apples we need to choose special varieties. Not all of this fruit which is so delicious in raw form is suitable for baking.

Apples for baking should be cored carefully so that the seeds and seed pods are removed. Then a sharp knife may be run around the center of each apple, or one inch of skin may be pared from the top. The centers should then be filled with sugar to which spice may be added.

After the apples have been placed in a baking pan, enough water should be poured around them to cover the bottom of the dish to the depth of about one-quarter inch. Then the pan should be covered, as this reduces the period of baking materially. Also the fruit keeps moist and in shape. If you like a very sweet apple, extra sugar may be mixed with the water surrounding the fruit.

A touch of glamor may be added to the apples by stuffing them with dried fruits. Raisins or dates, cut in small pieces, provide an interesting flavor. Cut soaked prunes mixed with chopped nuts also are good. If fruit is used for stuffing a light syrup rather than water should be poured around the apples. They should be baked once in a while.

Tea. That Sparkling Cup of Good cheer, is a fine beverage with lunch or a refreshing pick-up-upper in midafternoon with these teatime treats, doughnut halves topped with orange slices and honey, broiled, and sprinkled with cinnamon sugar.

Fish Do More Than Swim; Some Species Move on Land

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Fish are far from "human," but it is remarkable how many things they can do. They have ever so many ways of moving. Some of them (sticklebacks and catchfish, for example) make nests for their young. Others can breathe air.

There are fish which hitchhike. The remora is a "hitchhiker of the sea." Archer fish shoot drops of water at insects which are above the surface, and often bring them down.

Q. In what ways do fish move, aside from swimming?
A. Many of them take big

Eels look very much like snakes when they crawl over land.

leaps out of the water. Eels (which are classed as "true fish") crawl on land like snakes. Batfish walk along the bottom of the ocean. They use four of their fins in the manner of feet or legs.

The climbing perch of India, China and a few other places are among the wonders of nature. They live in lakes and ponds, but often climb up the banks and travel on dry land. They are able to breathe air. While going overland, they progress chiefly by flopping from one side to the other.

Another fish which can move about on land is the mudskipper. It uses its front fins as though they were arms, and makes a rowing motion over the ground.

Mudskippers live in shallow salt water, chiefly near the coasts of southeastern Asia and northeastern Africa. A tiny supply of water moistens their gills while they hunt for insects and small crabs.

Often they hop or skip with the help of their strong tails. They can make leaps of two or three feet.

Mudskippers are small fish. They seldom reach a length of more than six inches.

Adams Speaks, Democrats Start To Belittle Him

So Much Politics
Not Good for U. S., Writer Contends

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—This is a world of paradoxes — especially the world of politics. For weeks and weeks now, since the sputnik started to circle the earth, the Democrats inside and outside of congress have been castigating the Eisenhower administration for neglect of defense, for failing to have "bold and imaginative ideas" in foreign policy and for failing to exercise "leadership."

Now when Sherman Adams, assistant to the president, makes a lively speech of rebuttal, he is charged with being "partisan," and one leading spokesman for the opposition calls his remarks "mean and cheap."

For two months now Democratic partisans have had the field all to themselves. They have demanded the resignation of various cabinet officers. They have even been calling on President Eisenhower to resign. Their disregard of courtesy to the president himself has gone beyond the usual limits of partisanship.

In politics a lie repeated without any denial comes to be accepted as truth. There have been so many charges of neglect on the missile issue flung at the administration that it was inevitable an indignant reply would be made. The mystery is why some of the Republicans in congress haven't made it before this — they apparently are not strong in tactics of counteroffense.

Adams Enters
So it remained for Sherman Adams to enter the lists. And he did quite a job in his Minneapolis speech. He didn't step down to the level of political combat hailed so exultingly by the Democratic partisans when Harry Truman turns loose one of his "give 'em hell" speeches. But he did an effective job nevertheless as he said:

"Nowadays, back in Washington, hardly a day goes by but that some armchair strategist intones doom for America. Nor hardly a day goes by but that some political soothsayer first proclaims, then bemoans, American weakness. Disaster is too mild a word to describe our pitiful plight."

"There is an interesting aspect to this. In large measure this professional shuddering comes from those whose attitude about defense has been dictated by political expediency."

"I'll say simply this: We Republicans greet the opposition on this battlefield with as much anticipation as on any other they can conjure up. In such a contest, we have abundant ammunition."

Then Mr. Adams reviewed how the Democrats, in control of both houses of congress, cut military appropriations last year, and he pointed to the failure of the Democrats prior to 1952 to "start spending even as little as a million dollars on long-range ballistic missiles."

Democrats Belittle
On the very afternoon before the night when the various political speeches by the Republicans were being delivered Monday statements were coming from the Democratic national committee's advisory council belittling American foreign policy and lambasting the administration on defense matters.

Is all this politicking good for the country? Of course not. On the radio every night the communists make wide use of the sniping comments about the administration's foreign policy uttered by Democrats and other critics. But in a democracy, where free speech and a free press are the rule, all things are discussed and hence the Republicans have the right to reply just as the Democrats have the right to attack.

There's one consolation for the Republicans. Harry Truman says Gen. Eisenhower was a ways pretty good prior to 1952 when he — the former president — could tell like what to do. This seems to nullify all the nasty things the critics have been saying about Ike's willingness to let Stalin's armies occupy eastern Europe and take over Berlin and all the alleged mistakes he made in agreeing with the other chiefs of staff that Korea was not a defense requirement of prime necessity to the United States.

Evidently these were not his own ideas at all but merely President Truman's orders. (Copyright, 1958)

Perry Como Scores, Presley Skids In Annual Teenage Popularity Poll

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles on teenage views, thoughts and actions. The author is president of Gilbert Youth Research company.)

BY EUGENE GILBERT

Perry Como, the baritone barber of Canonsburg, Pa., shaved the sideburns of Elvis Presley to win a flock of honors in our annual teenage popularity poll.

"The Slouch," as Como is known in entertainment circles, proved himself no slouch at the ballot box as both boys and girls voted him the top male vocalist of the year.

Presley, last year's winner by a wide margin, dropped all the way to fourth place, behind Frank Sinatra and fast rising Pat Boone.

Como further solidified his position as pin-up boy of the bobby sox set by winning first place in the voting by the girls for favorite television personality of the year.

But funnyman Steve Allen topped the overall title of favorite TV personality when the votes of both boys and girls were tabulated together. The boys ranked Como in third place as a personality after picking him in the top spot as a singer.

On the basis of the vote of both boys and girls, Ed Sullivan finished in second place as a television personality, losing to rival Allan by a single percentage point.

Hudson Rocks Gals
Despite the havoc he made with the rating systems in his occasional television appearances, Presley did not figure as a top TV personality with the teenagers.

Behind Allan, Sullivan and Como came Phil (Bilko) Silvers, comedian Ernie Kovacs, rustic Ernie Ford, entertainer Arthur Godfrey and newsman Edward R. Murrow.

The boys picked Marlon Brando as their favorite actor, followed by William Holden, James Stewart and John Wayne.

The girls didn't see it that way at all. Rock Hudson took first place in their fluttering hearts by an overwhelming margin, distantly followed by James Stewart, Burt Lancaster and Clark Gable.

Inexplicably, in an age when TV westerns have revived the fortunes of the strong, silent types, Gary Cooper wound up in ninth place on both lists.

Wolf Whistles
Kim Novak, the slinky blonde siren, won enough wolf whistles to take best actress honors among the boys, who next liked Debbie Reynolds, Ingrid Bergman and Natalie Wood.

Although she hasn't made a picture within the past year, Princess Grace remained the top actress of the year as far as the girls were concerned. Ingrid Bergman took second place and Debbie Reynolds and Audrey Hepburn tied for the next position.

Marilyn Monroe, inactive in her career since marrying Arthur Miller, was seventh on both lists.

Singers Shook Up
The biggest shakeup in teenage loyalties and emotions since last year's poll came in the ranking of male vocalists.

The sudden emergence of the serene and confident Mr. Como as the top vocalist and the equally sudden downfall of the frantically writhing Mr. Presley came as something of a shock.

We had expected that Presley might slip a notch in the popularity poll and be replaced by some other rock 'n' roll artist, since all our surveys in the past year pointed to a steady decline in his appeal to teenagers.

Last year at this time he was tops, winning 33 per cent of all first place votes. By mid-year he was still riding high, but his acts himself and puts all he has percentage had slipped to below behind it but still remains easy 20. In the current poll he drew going". Evidently his seeming- 11 per cent of the votes and ly effortless efforts have won him a host of admirers among the nation's teenagers.

On Decline?
But the amazing thing is that the new king is not a rollicking good time on TV and doesn't act rock 'n' roll shouter, but a stuck up," commented Paige smooth and relaxed balladist. It takes a GIANT to feed a family of 170,500,000

Getting food to 170,500,000 people in over 49,500,000 U. S. households is a job of giant proportions. Yet the country's 401,000 grocery retailers, large and small, do it every day... and do it so effectively and in such volume, that we are the best fed people on earth.

Your local food store operator's never-ending search for new and better ways to fill your market basket is one reason why you enjoy the best, the freshest food possible at the lowest possible price.

It's also the reason why grocery retailers spend more money in newspapers than in any other advertising medium... well over $162,000,000 in 1956. They have found that the daily newspaper is the most effective and efficient way to keep you informed of products and prices.

To satisfy a hunger for news of people, places and products, people buy over 58,000,000 brand new, freshly made copies of the daily newspaper every day. Because the newspaper is the natural, logical place for America to shop, it's the natural, logical place to advertise.

If you have anything to sell, make sure it's seen. More people will see it in the daily newspaper than anywhere else.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Badger Plant Sales Meeting Ends Tuesday

Distributors From 12 States Gather to Learn of Progress

Kaukauna — Approximately 40 distributors of Badger Northland's farm machinery and equipment, representing 12 states and Canada, gathered in Kaukauna Monday and Tuesday for the eighth annual sales meeting.

A similar meeting for distributors from Wisconsin is planned for Jan. 30. The affair opened Monday morning with Vincent Rohlif, company president, giving a progress report and a resume of company policies as they affected distributors. Eugene Haen served as master of ceremonies as the distributors toured the local plant.

Roger Rohlif reviewed the sales picture for 1957 and Wilbur Haass discussed general accounting matters. An outline of the concern's advertising policy was also given to the distributors. Vincent Rohlif and Karl Kuehn told of planned expansion by erecting additional warehouse facilities at Portland, New York.

Sales techniques were discussed, production activities were outlined and men were given the opportunity to see a new chain developed by the concern. The chain was subjected to several tests to demonstrate its strength.

An indication of the continued growth of the concern is reflected in the number of distributors present. At the first such gathering in 1950, only 19 men were on hand and now eight years later the number has doubled.

Ghosts to Seek 4th League Win At Home Friday

Papermakers Invade Local Gym in Final Game of First Half

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school basketball squad will be gunning for its third victory of the 1958 portion of the season at 8 o'clock Friday night when it tangles with the Kimberly Papermakers at the Kaukauna gym.

The Galloping Ghosts have two wins in a row, something Kaukauna fans have not seen in a few years. The team currently is tied for fourth place with a 3-3 mark, one game behind the Papermakers who have won four and lost two.

Height Advantage
The Papermakers have the advantage in the height department but Coach Gerry Hopfensberger is hoping the home floor advantage with help balance the scales. Both teams rely heavily on underclassmen.

The game will wind up the first half of league play and based on comparative scores, the Ghosts have a better defensive record while the Papermakers have a decided advantage in the offensive scoring mark. Both teams dropped decisions to Shawano and Neenah, co-leaders, while the third Kaukauna loss came at the hands of Two Rivers, a team which lost by only two points to Kimberly at Kimberly.

Showing Improvement
Kaukauna has improved greatly in its last few outings as the scoring attack has started to be more balanced. In earlier games the Ghosts were having trouble as Jim Walsh was carrying the bulk of the scoring load. Bill Simon and Bill Borchardt have started to come through in the last two outings to aid Walsh.

Kimberly is paced by Don Heardon in the scoring department but one of its biggest threats is Jack Lamers who is not only second in team scor-

Little Increase in Food Prices Expected in 1958

Industry Predicts Keen Competition, Smaller Profit Margins to Hold Line

Food prices will not increase much in 1958, although higher business costs may force a 2 per cent rise.

Food manufacturers expect keen competition to hold prices down and to further reduce their small profit margins which averaged only 2.6 cents on the sales dollar last year. Food sales are expected to increase 3 to 7 per cent because of a 1.6 per cent gain in population and increased buying of convenient new food items. The consensus of industry leaders who gave their predictions for the new year in special interviews with Food Engineering magazine.

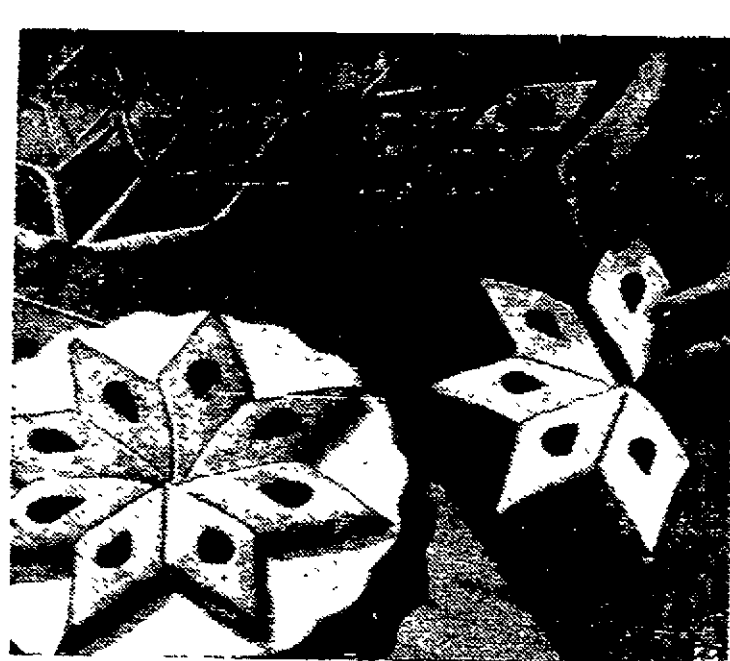

Industry executives see two main factors encouraging a rising trend in sales—more new products and increased market research.

With consumers better educated to appreciate something new, manufacturers are expected to place a want-ad dial 3-4411.

Grange Committee Plans Chicken Lunch

Greenville — The home economics committee of the South Greenville grange will sponsor a chicken pie luncheon at noon Sunday, Miss Lena Schultz and Mrs. Edwin Luebke are co-chairmen.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Henry Schaefer, Mrs. Elmer Root, Mrs. Harold Greiner, Mrs. Hazel Woesenberg, Mrs. Edna Brightman, Mrs. Lydia Johnson, and Mrs. Wallace Pingle.

Coffees Get Recognition In Cookbooks

Morning coffees, a new way of entertaining, are beginning to be recognized in cook books.

In "Carolina Cooking," put together by a group of women in Chapel Hill, the custom is amusingly explained. It's "a good excuse to leave the dishes in the sink and the children with a neighbor."

More seriously, the editors say that morning coffee is a versatile and popular institution in their community because ladies' lunches are restricted by husbands coming home for mid-day meals. These morning meetings take the place of other neighborhoods' afternoon teas.

Quick breads seem to be popular at morning coffees and so here is a new recipe for one that's attractive and different.

Diamond Coffee Cake
 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1 cup white or yellow cornmeal
 1 cup sugar
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 One-third cup shortening
 1 cup milk
 8 teaspoons jam or preserves
 Extra sugar

Sift together the flour, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until particles are tiny. Add milk, stirring lightly only until mixture is dampened.

Turn out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth and knead gently a few seconds.

Roll out dough to 1/4-inch thickness; cut 16 large diamond-shaped biscuits using floured cutter or cardboard pattern. Cut design or slit in center of

Americans Like Cheddar Cheese Best

In this country we eat about twice as much Cheddar as all other types of cheese combined.

We like the more highly flavored cheese, and some of the more delicate types for dessert service when we often offer it with fruit. In addition, we use many of the cheese spreads which are obtainable in glass, plastic, foil or cardboard boxes. Some of these are now available in tubes and can easily be used for spreads or garnishes.

A new group of spreads in plastic containers is handy for decorating or spreading and will be particularly convenient for canape preparation at party time. The cheese may be squeezed directly from the container into a hot sauce or into an omelet mixture.

Toasted Cheese
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 1 pound cheese
 2 eggs
 1 cup milk

Mix seasoning in greased 9-inch pie pan. Grate cheese into pan. Break eggs over cheese, add milk and mix with fork. Set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate 375-degree oven until set, about 35 to 40 minutes.

Most Meat Price Tags Remain on High Level

Many Citrus Fruits, Some Produce Also Continue to Soar; Florida Frosts Blamed

The weekend shopper will need a good pair of spectacles to sight a meat bargain among the high priced cuts in Appleton food stores.

The situation is the same it has been for the last few months, with a few cuts leading the list.

Several meat men claim beef may stay at its heights and may become scarce in some areas since many beef raisers are feeding their cattle out and will put them on the market in spring.

Top meat buys are frying chickens from 43 to 49 cents a pound and ham from 45 cents a pound for roasts to 69 cents a pound for whole ones. Also reasonable are chuck from about 45 cents upward, rump veal roast at 59 cents, and shoulder veal steak at about 69 cents a pound.

Other Meats
Considered high priced are beef rump roast at 95 cents, sirloin tip roast at 95 cents, pork roast from 59 cents upward, spare ribs at 55 cents, rib roast from 75 to 89 cents, round steak from 85 to 89 cents, sirloin from 89 to 99 cents and pork chops from 75 to 89 cents a pound.

There's been a slight let up on citrus fruit prices but, on the whole, they remain high — thanks to recent Florida frosts. About the most reasonable buy are grapefruit from the Indian river region (the area wasn't almost as much as 30 cents a dozen — and the protein food is one of the current top buys. A dozen Grade A large range from 45 cents a dozen upward, while mediums are a few cents lower per dozen.

The Florida frost is blamed for high prices on some vegetables but enough variety is available right now so the shopper can avoid them if she chooses.

Produce Buys
Most reasonable buys are brussels sprouts at 23 cents a box, broccoli at 29 cents a bunch, cauliflower at 33 cents a head. Wisconsin potatoes at 10 pounds for 43 cents and Idaho potatoes at 10 pounds for 69 cents.

Moderate to high priced are lettuce at 19 cents a head, carrots at 15 cents a bunch, celery at 29 cents a bunch, cucumbers at 23 cents apiece, radishes at 15 cents a bunch, green peppers at 21 cents apiece, spinach at 29 cents a bunch, peas in the pod at 29 cents a pound, green cabbage at 10 cents a pound and red cabbage at 15 cents a pound.

Offered for variety rather than economy are green beans found in egg coolers. Prices at 39 cents a pound and hot have dropped considerably in house rhubarb at 39 cents a pound the last month or so — some pound.

Ice Cream Rounds Cut While Still in Carton

When you buy ice cream in a round carton you can serve it in even slices if you slit the carton from the firmly frozen ice cream with a sharp knife and then peel off the heavy paper. A quart of the ice cream may be cut into six rounds.

Rolled Beef-Mushroom Loaf Has Rice Stuffing

Knowing lots of ways to fix ground beef can add variety to meals and keep the meat bill down.

This recipe is for a savory meat loaf or roll which is different and exceptionally delicious. Well-seasoned ground beef is rolled up like a jelly roll. The filling is made of cooked rice and a bit of cheese. There are mushrooms in the meat for just the right bit of exciting flavor.

A suggested menu featuring this dish could include buttered green peas, parsley carrots, Waldorf salad and perhaps an applesauce cake.

Ingredients for Loaf
1 3-oz. can broiled, chopped mushrooms, drained
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons grated onion
1/2 cup quick cooking oats
2 teaspoons thick meat or steak sauce
1 cup milk
1 1/2 cups cold cooked rice
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated American cheese

Cut the mushrooms into small pieces.

Mix together the egg, beef, salt, black pepper, onions, oats, meat sauce and the one-fourth cup milk. Mix together well.

Place on a piece of waxed paper or aluminum foil. Pat out evenly until the meat is about 9 by 12 inches.

Put the rice, one-half cup milk and cheese in a saucepan. Heat over a low heat until the milk is absorbed.

Spread over the meat, leaving a margin of about one and one-half inches all around. Roll up, starting from side which is nine inches. Pick up the paper or foil to help with the rolling. Pinch ends together to keep rice stuffing in. Patch any broken places with meat from ends of the loaf.

Place loaf folded side down in a greased shallow pan. Pour about one-half cup water around the loaf. Bake in a preheated, 325 degree oven one hour or until the meat is done through and beginning to brown.

Allow to stand about five minutes before cutting into slices. Serve with the pan drippings, mushroom or tomato sauce or other sauce as desired.

Potato Nutrients Highly Available

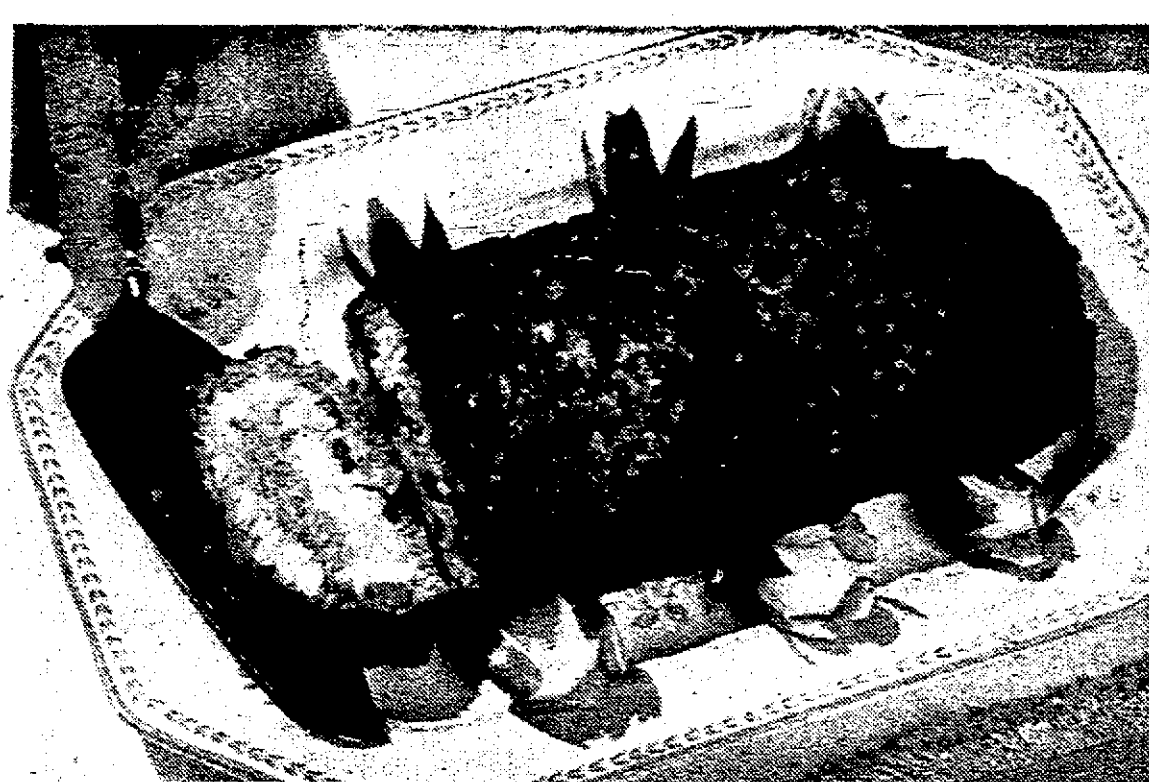

It has been found that the nutrients in potatoes are highly available for use by the body.

Nutritionists explain that to determine the nutritive value of a food it is necessary not only to find out the quantity of different elements in a food but what percentage of each is absorbed and used.

A recent department of agriculture report - (Agriculture Handbook No. 74) states that in six studies the digestibility of total carbohydrates of potatoes ranged from 92 per cent to more than 99 per cent. Proteins of potatoes were found to be 74 per cent digestible on the average, though these protein figures were considered low and tentative. It was pointed out in the report that (human) "subjects (of experiments) have remained in generally good condition for long periods on diets in which potatoes were practically the sole source of protein."

The iron in the potato is 93 to 100 per cent available, according to the Idaho department of agriculture, citing work by Peterson and Elvehjem.

Further, it has been found that the vitamin thiamine in potatoes is more effective in the human body than when pure thiamine is furnished or when brown rice or lamb is eaten.

A New Kind of Rolled Beef roast is this ground beef, mushroom variety, designed to keep the budget down but meal quality up. It has a delicious rice-cheese stuffing and may be served with a mushroom or tomato sauce.

Earth-Floored Farm Cellar Used to be Filled With Food

BY HAYDN S. PEARSON

I wonder how many who read this were brought up on a farm and can remember the earth-floored cellar with the bins of cabbages, potatoes and carrots? The shelves with shining jars of fruits and preserves? The barrel of salt pork?

Father always put down a barrel or two of fancy Northern Spies, Baldwins, Russets and Greenings. In the evening, after lessons were done and he had read the papers and farm journals, he went down cellar and brought up a bowl of apples that he peeled, quartered, cored, and passed to us children on the point of his knife. Apples, plus a handful of cookies and a glass of milk made a good bedtime snack in the era when folks went to bed early and got up before the forenoon was half over.

Apple Bread
Today's recipe is one I like. Use three fourths cup sugar, two tablespoons brown sugar, one fourth pound butter, one egg beaten, one half cup rich milk, two and a fourth cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one and a half teaspoons baking powder, three fourths teaspoon salt, three fourths teaspoon allspice, one fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one eighth teaspoon cloves, and two cups finely chopped apples.

Cream the sugar and butter. Add egg and blend. Add milk and blend. Add the flour sifted with the dry ingredients and mix. Add the apples, and mix and beat the batter while you sing a couple of stanzas of Annie Laurie.

Bake in a greased loaf pan at 350 for one hour or until done. Try this bread toasted in the oven for breakfast with all-the grape jelly.

Delicious Recipe For Leftover Ham

A little cooked ham in the refrigerator? Dice it fine or grind it and mix with mashed potatoes and an egg. Spoon into muffin cups and dot with butter; bake until hot through and lightly browned.

Mashed Turnips

Mashed turnips take an interesting flavor turn when a small amount of mashed potato is added and the whole is seasoned with onion juice, butter and sugar.

Corned Beef Hash Welcomed Dish

An old-fashioned recipe that nearly everyone hankers for once in a while is Corned Beef Hash.

With this recipe lamb may be used or a 12-ounce can of corned beef may be substituted for cooked corned beef.

Corned Beef Hash
4 tablespoons shortening

2 cups finely chopped cooked corned beef or lamb
3 cups finely chopped boiled potatoes
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup milk
Pepper
Melt shortening in skillet. Mix remaining ingredients well. Add salt if necessary. Spread mixture evenly in skillet.

Cooking Hint

When you use salad oil for french-fried potatoes, heat it to 375 degrees.

skillet and cook over low heat. Shake skillet occasionally. When hash is well browned on bottom, fold like an omelet with the aid of a spatula, and carefully turn out on hot plate.

Snow, Cold Miss Fox Cities

Brother of Severe Storm Seen Forming South of the Border

The storm that smothered most of the midwest Tuesday has a brother starting to howl south of the Mexican border today, according to forecasters who see the same climatic conditions forming as were noted in the earlier storm.

This week's storm swept out of the Mexican - Texas area across the middle of the country and blew itself out by coasting New England with a glaze of ice Wednesday.

It was the worst storm of the season and one of the worst on record. At least 36 deaths were attributed to it in five states.

Still Digging
Parts of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, southern Michigan and the southeastern part of Wisconsin were still digging out of tons of snow that fell in layers from 11 to 18 inches deep.

The Fox Cities area not only missed the snow storm—there has been no precipitation recorded here this week—but missed the cold wave that followed.

The area's maximum of 26 Tuesday and today's minimum of 18 compare favorably with the reported lows in the storm area.

Cold Wave

The state highway department reported major highways in the storm area in "pretty good shape" today.

Roads in the northwestern section of the state, where light snow was being reported, were not so good. Highways around St. Croix Falls, Grantsburg, Hayward, Ladysmith, Cameron and Spooner were described as generally slippery after an overnight drizzle with freezing temperatures.

The skies in the Fox Cities this morning were clear and the weather was fair. The wind out of the southeast at 10 miles an hour and the temperature was 22 at 11 o'clock.

There was no change indicated in the forecast.

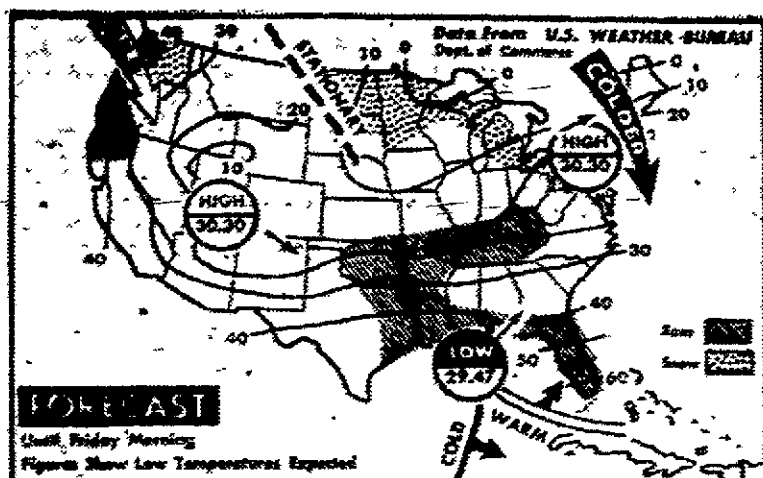

Eight Slot Machines Face 'Trial' Monday

Louisville, Ky. — Eight slot machines go on trial Monday on charges of being used for gambling.

First Asst. County Atty. Sal Pinto sued the machines under a statute which says if a jury finds the machines "were used or intended to be used for the purpose of gambling, they shall be condemned and forfeited."

Asked if the machines had employed counsel, Pinto replied: "Rather than take advantage of the machines, I have brought in the owners to represent the machines."

Two veterans of Foreign Wars posts were named co-defendants.

Mixed Trend On Exchange

Tobacco Issues Continue Upturn In Quiet Trading

New York — Tobacco shares continued their rise as the stock market showed a mixed pattern in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Changes in most key stocks were narrow, generally within a point.

The market showed a gentle downward trend at the opening. This continued until about noon, when tobacco stocks advanced.

Some tobaccos hit new 1957-58 highs.

Some uncertainty existed regarding money rates following the latest credit-easing moves as the lower rates have not yet become uniform. Further anti-recession moves by the federal reserve board were awaited.

Meanwhile, the succession of unfavorable dividend actions caused hesitancy in regard to stocks with dividend announcements in the offing.

Lorillard and Phillip Morris gained about a point and Liggett & Myers a major fraction as each touched new highs.

General Dynamics saw-sawed in an otherwise steady aircraft section. It showed easiness in the afternoon after an early improvement. Douglas Aircraft was ahead about a point.

Chemicals and airlines showed a downward drift. Steels and oils were mixed.

U. S. government bonds were mixed.

Why is it faster?

Never before has a desk calculator done all this:

- Calculates (and rotary-prints) at high speed
- Prints a tape (essential figures only) for fast checking, permanent proof
- Uses short-cut multiplication (positive and negative) automatically
- Multiplies and divides without requiring positioning
- Has automatic constant that needs no locking in or clearing out
- Stores intermediate figures in memory, for combined operations
- Multiplies successively, without requiring re-entries (a x b x c x d)
- Totals and sub-totals automatically (when wanted)
- Accumulates products automatically
- Combines operations, eliminates re-entry of intermediate figures.

And it is very simple to operate! May we demonstrate?

March Planned

Students Will Make Canvas of Homes Sunday Afternoon

Kaukauna — Teenagers of Kaukauna will conduct the march against polio Sunday afternoon. They will make a house to house canvass for funds.

The teenage march will replace the Mothers' march. Students will begin the solicitations at 1:30 in the afternoon. Members of the Kaukauna Elks ladies will prepare a hot lunch to be served after the drive.

Judith Danner is teenage chairman and will be assisted by Susan Mongin, Margo Paschen, Doris DeBruin and Donald Coenen. The city will be divided into districts for each district. The leader will have charge of a group of teenagers to conduct the district drives.

The Lady Elks will drive students to their respective areas to start the collection and then will pick up the students and return them to the Elks club for the lunch.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
January 12, 1955

The first regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held at 7:00 p.m., January 12, 1955 in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Members present were: Messrs. Harder, Krueger, Schneider, Sutherland, Jesse and Mrs. Davis. Absent: Mr. Sutherland. The following communications were received from the Board of Education:

1. Letter from Mr. Geo. Narovec, architect, regarding the filling of "Bidders' Statement of Fact" for the Daniel Hantley School.

2. Letter from Mrs. Lilias Lipske regarding school board actions and enclosing a recent Reader's Digest article.

3. The handling of "Bidders' Statement of Fact" was discussed by the board. This involves the filling of the worth of the contractor and his ability to fulfill his contract.

It was moved by Mr. Jesse and seconded by Mr. Krueger that the Business Affairs Committee be empowered by the board to take whatever action they may see fit following a point review of "Bidders' Statement of Fact" by the Business Affairs Committee and Mr. George Narovec, architect for the Daniel Hantley School. Carried, all voting.

Mr. Krueger moved and Mr. Schneider seconded that the monthly reports of the Activities Fund, Cafeteria, Physical Therapy be accepted and placed on file. Carried, all voting.

Mr. Davis moved and Mr. Sutherland seconded that the bill list for December amounting to $14,390.00, Voucher Nos. 3112 to 3250, inclusive, be approved and certified to the City Clerk for payment. Carried on a roll call vote.

Mr. Davis moved and Mr. Sutherland seconded that the January bill list of January 12, 1955 amounting to $97,524.44, Voucher Nos. 3251 to 3400, inclusive, be approved and certified to the City Clerk for payment. Carried on a roll call vote.

The board reviewed the Annual Financial Report, James Madison Building Fund Report and Year-end Report of Special Fund.

On the recommendation of the board that the Textbook Rental Fee be reviewed by the staff.

Mr. Krueger, Director of Business Affairs, presented the following report:

1. List of budget priorities.

2. Request for approval to have a bar-type soap dispenser included in the Jas. Madison Jr. High School specification, instead of a liquid soap dispenser.

3. Request for approval to revise plans for the Daniel Hantley Elementary School to provide storage for the nine foot delivery truck.

It was moved by Mr. Sutherland and seconded by Mr. Schneider that the board authorize Mr. Narovec, architect, to revise plans for the Daniel Hantley Elementary School to provide for storage of the nine foot delivery truck. Carried on a roll call vote.

A discussion of budget priorities, the suggestion was made that board members plan a series of building inspection tours to be held on Saturday mornings, starting the first Saturday in February. Arrangements should be made so that the principal of the building could be present when these inspection tours are made.

It was requested that Sidney Krueger, architect, and other employees be presented at the next meeting.

Mr. Mann presented the Superintendent's Report as follows:

1. The following new teachers have been hired to complete the 1954-55 school year:

Mr. Herbie McCarty, Jr., English-Sr. High

Miss Ann Ennsbary, Kindergarten-Columbus

2. Resignation:

Mrs. Cynthia Estridge (Effective end of first semester)

3. Resignation:

Mrs. Cynthia Estridge (Effective end of first semester)

4. The following resignation, adopted at the Jan. 2, 1955 meeting of the Common Council, was received:

"Resolution by Alderman Tews, Resolved, that the Appleton Public Schools be requested to prepare a complete and comprehensive report for presentation to the Common Council showing:

1. Current plans for future new school buildings.

2. How much greater use of existing buildings by means of a two-shift per day or quarter system affect these future building plans."

5. In a special meeting with secondary school administrators, school nurses, representative of the State Board of Health, Dr. Guy Carlson, of the Outagamie Co. Medical Society, Mrs. Walter Brummond, of the W.A.T.A., it was agreed that the Tuberculin testing program which is now given in Grades 5, 10 and 12 should be given in Grades 4, 5 and 12 in 1955 and Grades 4, 5 and 11 in 1956, and each year thereafter. It was also agreed that all positive reactors would have a follow-up of a large X-ray. I recommend that the suggestions worked out in this specification become operative as of this year.

6. Announcement of a Curriculum Conference to be held at Morison School, January 16, 1955. I should be happy to have board members attend.

7. A recent Summary for 1954-55 school year presented.

8. Discussion of the board-council houses to be held at 6:45 p.m. January 17, 1955.

Information given regarding the Federal School Lunch Program.

Your Income Tax

They're Expensive to Keep but Exemptions are Your Friends

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newfeatures Writer

Exemptions are wonderful things. They can even make you love your mother-in-law.

Every exemption you claim knock $600 right off the top of emptions: for yourself, or for your gross income, making it yourself and spouse if you are tax free. Since the amount for filing a joint return; for your each exemption is so large, the children, and for "others."

rules are precise and rigid. Within those rules, however, you should claim every exemption to which you are entitled.

Everybody Gets One

Each taxpayer gets at least one exemption for himself. He is entitled to another if he is 65 or over (even if he reached his 65th birthday on the last day of 1957). And he is entitled to still another if he is blind.

The same rules apply to married couples who file joint returns. If both are 65 or over they are entitled to four exemptions; if one is 65 or over and the other is under that age, they get three exemptions.

Now, about the children. The big thing here is that — to be claimed as an exemption — they must have received more than half their support from you during the tax year.

You can claim one exemption for each child, stepchild or legally adopted child who was not more than 18 years old at any time during the tax year. Within this age group it doesn't matter how much income the child had, so long as you paid more than half of his or her support.

If the child reached age 19 during the tax year or is even older you may still claim an exemption if he or she is a full-time student or had a taxable income of less than $600 for the year — and still providing that you paid more than half the support costs.

Requirements Stiff

In addition to exemptions for yourself, your spouse and your children, you may claim other dependents whether or not they are related to you. These dependents, however, have to meet some pretty stiff requirements.

The qualify as exemptions for you these dependents must:

1. Have received less than $600 in total reportable income during 1957;
2. Have received more than half their support from you;
3. Have not filed a joint return for 1957 with their spouse,

4. Be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; and
5. Either have been a member of your household for the entire taxable year, or be related to you. If you are filing a joint return, they may be related to either husband or wife.

Relatives who may qualify under these provisions are: mother, father, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother, sister, step-brother, step-sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepmother, stepfather, grandparents, grandchildren or — when related by blood — aunt, uncle, niece or nephew.

Foster Children

Note that rule 5 above says they must either have been a member of your household for the entire tax year, or must be related to you. Thus, a foster child would not qualify as a relative, but might qualify if he or she had spent the entire year in your household and met the other provisions as to income, age, support.

And the internal revenue service warns you not to try to list the maid or the butler — servants are not considered part of the household.

You may have noted above that one of the provisions for claiming an exemption is that the dependent does not have a reportable income of $600 or more during the year. We'll go into this in greater detail in the next article, but it might be well to point out here that no all income need be reported.

Social security payments, for instance, are tax-free and need not be reported, and so are most inheritances and death benefits from insurance policies.

Suppose you have a child aged 19 or more who had taxable income of less than $600 for the year, but who received $1,000 in death benefits from an insurance policy. That $1,000 wouldn't count against the exemption — but you would still have to show that you paid more than half the support costs during the year.

Lose Exemption

If the child used the $1,000 to pay his or her own support costs, you lose the exemption regardless of whether the $1,000 is tax-free, unless you contributed more than $1,000 additional to the support costs.

There is one thing to be considered while we're discussing exemptions — the case where several persons together contribute more than half the support of an individual during the year but no one alone contributed more than half. That might be the case where four brothers chipped in equally to support a widowed mother.

Cooperation Pays

One of the taxpayers concerned may claim the support person as an exemption if:

1. The supported person meets the requirements for a dependent (as outlined above);
2. The person claiming the exemption contributed more than 10 per cent of the dependent's support; and
3. Each other person in the group files a statement with the IRS declaring that he or she is not claiming the same exemption for the same tax year.

In this way, each member of the group may take his turn in claiming an exemption to which none of the group would ordinarily be entitled.

The next article will outline the income you have to declare that which is tax-free and the exclusions you may claim.
